THE LONDON SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS AND POLITICAL SCIENCE ■

LSE Education Symposium 2022

Educating for the Common Good

Friday 10 June (10am-4.15pm)		MAR.1.04 (or online – register for joining details)
10.05-10.15am	Claire Gordon (Director, LSE Eden Centre)	Welcome
10.15-10.50am	James Purnell (Vice-Chancellor, UAL)	Educating for the Common Good
10.50-11.40am	Martin Weller (Professor of Educational Technology, Open University)	Open Educational Practice – educating for the common good?
11.40am-1pm	Education at LSE from our students' perspective (panel)	Camille Bou (PhD Fellow, NIHR School for Social Care Research)
		Dylan Stevens (Graduate Intern, LSE Eden Centre, Student Partnership)
		Aleesha Bruce (LSE Department of Government)
		Sia Shahrizad (LSE Department of Psychological and Behavioural Science)
		Sarah Garrone (Graduate Intern, LSE Eden Centre, Inclusive Education)
		Chair: Sarah Crofton (LSE Eden Centre)
1pm	LUNCH BREAK

2-2.30pm	Dilly Fung (Pro-Director for Education, LSE)	What does it mean to educate for the global common good?
2.30-3.15pm	Andrew Kirton (Lecturer in Sociology, University of Liverpool)	The 'Interchange' Initiative: Applied social research projects as an educational opportunity for the 'common good'
3.15-3.45pm	Practice sharing from LSE educators	Sara Camacho Felix (LSE International Inequalities Institute) The Atlantic Fellows Scheme Stuart Gordon (LSE Department of International Development) Complex Humanitarian Emergencies Kate Dawson (LSE Department of Geography and Environment) Art of the Anthropocene
3.45-4.15pm	Maria Bell and Inderbir Bhullar (LSE Digital Library team)	Out of the Box: Sharing stories from the archives
4.15pm	CLOSE	