Welcome to all our students

We are committed to providing a high quality campus for students, staff and visitors and are in the midst of a huge investment programme to create better facilities for LSE. Our next major project is the Firoz Lalji Global Hub, located at 35 Lincoln's Inn Fields, which will be LSE's first net zero carbon building and is due to complete in 2028.

This guide has been designed to help you find your way around campus and help you get the most out of the facilities the School has to offer.

For more information, regular updates and new features visit: lse.ac.uk/facilities or see the Student Hub.

See the back cover for details of our "Don't Walk Past" campaign, which encourages students to report faults at any time.

The LSE Estates Team are award winning: We won the Estates/Facilities Team of the Year Award at the Association of University Directors of Estates (AUDE) Conference and Awards Ceremony 2026. We are not resting on our laurels however but continually striving to improve our excellent services and would encourage you to help us in this endeavour by giving us your feedback on this guide – email estates.admin@lse.ac.uk with suggestions before 31 October. The incentive is not just to help us improve our excellent services – there will be a prize for the best suggestion we receive.

We do hope you enjoy your time at LSE.

With best wishes,

Allan Blair

Director of Facilities Management

General information

If you have a query about campus facilities at any time, the main reception in the Old Building is always open to provide assistance.

The following buildings have staffed receptions: Centre Building, Cheng Kin Ku Building, Fawcett House, the Library, Marshall Building, Pankhurst House, Pethick-Lawrence House, Saw Swee Hock Student Centre and the Sir Arthur Lewis Building.

The LSE campus is a very busy and vibrant environment. We hope that you can enjoy it while respecting other people and their right to enjoy the campus without disturbance or unseemly behaviour. In this spirit we ask that you observe the School policies and procedures that are in place.

Campus opening times

Monday – Friday: 7am – 11pm. After 6.30pm a LSE swipe/ID card is required for access.

Saturday – Sunday: 8am – 10pm. Access to campus buildings is by LSE swipe/ID card or via main reception in Old Building.

During holiday periods access arrangements may vary. For more information visit: info.lse.ac.uk/staff/divisions/estates-division/a-z-of-services/security

Library opening times

Autumn term: 8am – Midnight.

Winter term, Spring break and Spring term: 24-hour opening.

Summer break: 8am – Midnight.

Student Services Centre (SSC)

Student counter offering a range of services and advice. For opening times and ways to contact the SSC, visit lse.ac.uk/ssc

Room numbering

Room numbers when shown on timetables or in publications indicate the building, the floor and the room. On a door sign within a building only the floor and room are shown. Basement floors begin with B, ground with G, first with 1 and so on. Room numbers start with .01 and run sequentially through the floor, so first floor rooms would run 1.01, 1.02, 1.03.

Please check carefully when accessing rooms in SAL – eg, SALG.10 is a ground floor room, not lower ground.

Reporting faults and defects on campus

The Estates Helpdesk aims to ensure that faults are attended to promptly, in order to do this we need to know about them.

If you see a fault or defect with any facility on campus please report it by calling 020 7955 7956 or ext 7956.

For emergencies call: 020 7955 6090 (ext 2444).

Email: estates-help-desk@lse.ac.uk

Keeping safe on campus

The aim of this section is to provide important safety information. LSE Security have produced a handy Staying Safe booklet designed to keep students informed and aware. You can pick up a copy at any campus reception or view the pdf here.

The main School reception in the Old Building is staffed 24 hours per day.

Accidents

Students should report all accidents, incidents or near misses on campus to Security or the administrators in their Department. If you require an ambulance, call 999 (UK emergency services number) and then call Security on 666 (from internal phone) or 020 7955 6555.

Bike safety

The School provides secure day use bike park facilities in the basement of Fawcett/Pankhurst House and Marshall Building. These are free to use and you can gain access with your LSE Student card. Other options are the numerous bike racks around the campus (see chart on page 27). It is advisable to use either a diamond rated “Sold Secure” endorsed padlock and chain or D-lock. Take a note of your bike’s serial number (usually found on the underside of your bike frame) and look out for free bike security marking by the police and mechanical checks (Dr Bike pop ups) during the School term.

Cash machines (ATMs)

When on campus use the cash machine situated on Houghton Street (next to Wright’s Bar) or withdraw cash at the Post Office counter, 95 Aldwych.

Stay with friends especially when walking at night or stopping to get money from a cash machine. If anyone approaches you when you are using a cash machine do not be distracted; immediately cancel your transaction, remove your card and walk away – notify campus Security or Police.

Fire procedures

On hearing the fire alarm signal, all persons must leave the building they are in promptly and make their way to the appropriate assembly point for that building. People should not attempt to re-enter the building until they have been directed by a member of Security staff that it is safe to do so.

Note: in CBG, CKK, FAW, PAN, PEL and SAW there is an additional signal for occupants to prepare to evacuate. If you hear this signal, you should wait for the full alarm before leaving. For more information visit the fire safety web pages.

Anyone who has a disability or medical condition (whether temporary or permanent) that could affect their ability to respond to a fire alarm and leave a building using staircases should contact the Fire Safety Officer (estates.fire.safety@lse.ac.uk) so that a personal emergency evacuation plan can be developed for them.

Fire alarm testing schedule

To find out when to expect the fire alarm testing in your building please check the schedule.

First-aid

Life-threatening/Serious injury or medical emergency: Call 999 or 112 for an ambulance, then contact Security so they can guide the ambulance crew to the correct location on campus.

Minor injury: Call Security on 666 (internal phone) or 020 7955 6555 (mobile) for first-aid assistance.

There are seven defibrillators on campus located at the receptions in CBG, CKK, LRB, MAR, OLD, PAN and SAL. There is also a defibrillator in SAW (SU Gym).

Library

LSE Library is a safe working environment but you must look after your personal belongings when working there. Never leave your belongings unattended, even for a short period of time.

Lifts

Do not use lifts if the fire alarm sounds, unless directed by Security. Do not overload lifts. Information on what to do if the lift breaks down is displayed in the lift. Some buildings are served by platform lifts. If you observe a fault with a lift please report it to Estates Helpdesk.

Property lost and found

Lost and found property is handled by LSE Security and the first point of call is the Old Building reception. The Property Office is located in OLD B.23 and opening times are Monday – Thursday, 10am – 2pm.

The School is one of the few institutions in central London to maintain an open campus policy. This means that throughout the day many School buildings are open. This provides a free and collegiate atmosphere that many in the School enjoy. We are keen that you enjoy this too, but always bear in mind that the School is a public place and cannot be treated as your home. You would not leave your valuables unattended on a park bench and you should not leave them unattended in the Library, the Garrick Cafe or any other public area of the School.

Smoking policy

Smoking, which includes electronic vaping and herbal cigarettes, is prohibited inside all buildings on the campus and all LSE halls of residence, residents' rooms and any other building or facility managed by the School. The prohibition extends to roof terraces, building entrances, including doorways, steps, ramps, external fire escape stairways and escape routes. Ashbins are positioned just outside the entrance to buildings, these are provided so that smokers can dispose of their cigarette materials before they enter the building, (not for people to smoke at entrances). Bins to recycle empty vapes are located at the reception of CBG and SAW. To view the full policy see here.

Medical and childcare provision

The health and wellbeing of all LSE students and staff is of paramount importance to the School, and so the following services are offered to the LSE community during their time at the School.

St Philips Medical Centre

Location: 2nd floor, Pethick-Lawrence House (PEL)

Contact: 020 7611 5131

Website: www.stphilipsmedicalcentre.co.uk

An NHS General Practice staffed by Doctors, Nurses, Clinical Pharmacists, Physician's Associates and Social Prescribers. We provide medical and nursing care to registered patients.

The team offers support with acute medical problems, chronic disease management, mental health, contraception and family planning, cervical screening and immunisations.

We have a close working relationship with the LSE Student Wellbeing Service.

Referrals can be made for specialist management in Secondary (Hospital) Care when needed.

The surgery offers a range of pre-bookable and urgent same day appointments that can be in-person or by phone. We encourage our patients to use e-Consult which enables contact with one of our clinicians on-line.

We advise all students to register at the start of term so that should you need any help or support, it is easier to organise an appointment and access the appropriate care needed.

NHS Walk-In Centre

Location: 1 Frith St, Soho, London W1D 3HZ

Contact: 020 7534 6500

Website: clch.nhs.uk/services/walk-in-centres

Patients (registered and unregistered) can attend the booked clinic via a referral from the NHS 111 service or by telephoning the clinic.

Alternatively please call 111 or visit 111.nhs.uk/

Sardinia House Dental Practice

Location: 4th floor, Sardinia House (SAR)

Contact: 020 7404 8600/07834 169974

Email: info@sardiniadental.com

To book visit: sardiniadental.com/contact

An independent dental practice offering preferential rates to LSE staff and students.

LSE Treatment Clinic

Location: 1st floor, Fawcett House

To book visit: lsetreatmentclinic.co.uk

Email: enquiries@lsetreatmentclinic.co.uk

Opening days: Osteopathy (Monday and Tuesday) • Acupuncture (Wednesday)
• Physiotherapy (Thursday) • Massage (Friday)

Offering reduced fees for LSE students and staff.

Treatments include Acupuncture, Osteopathy, Sports Therapy and Remedial Massage.

The Nest – Expectant and New Mothers’ Room (1.02C)

Location: 1st floor Pethick Lawrence House, via Fawcett House

Contact: FAW/PAN reception

A room where expectant mothers can rest and new mothers who return to work when they are still breast-feeding can express and store milk. This facility is available for LSE staff and students. Please note baby change facilities are located in CKK G.04, MAR 1.13, OLD G.04, 4.06, 4.07 and 5.10. Please click here for further details.

Nursery Partnerships

LSE has partnership agreements in place with three local nurseries near to campus so that LSE staff and students can access discounted childcare. These nurseries were selected for their Ofsted rating, location, availability of spaces, outside space, operating hours, fresh food provision, emergency care support and more. For LSE students, the School will provide a subsidy towards the standard nursery rates. For more details, including the process for students to apply, please see the Nursery Partnerships webpage.

Cleaning and servicing on campus

Cleaning takes place weekdays as per the building schedules which can be found on these pages.

Buildings with teaching facilities have janitorial provision between 9am – 10pm, while administrative buildings 9am – 5pm. If you see a spillage or any potential slip hazard please report it to Estates Helpdesk by calling 020 7955 6090 (ext 2444) or emailing estates-help-desk@lse.ac.uk

We politely ask you to be considerate to your fellow students and avoid the consumption of food and drink in the lecture theatres.

Weekend cleaning and janitorial servicing

CBG, CKK, the Library, MAR, OLD and SAW are cleaned routinely and serviced throughout weekends.

All other cleaning and janitorial staff provided at the weekend are to service pre-booked rooms. Please contact estates.fm@lse.ac.uk if the following applies to your event:

- Over 50 guests are anticipated
- Event set up is required before 9am
- Room booking made after Thursday via the room booking system.

This will ensure the correct staffing levels are available on the day.

Sustainability at LSE

LSE is committed to acting responsibly and sustainably — we are not only a global leader in sustainability research, but sustainability is embedded in our Ethics Code and established in our Sustainability Strategic Plan. Want to make a difference during your time at LSE?

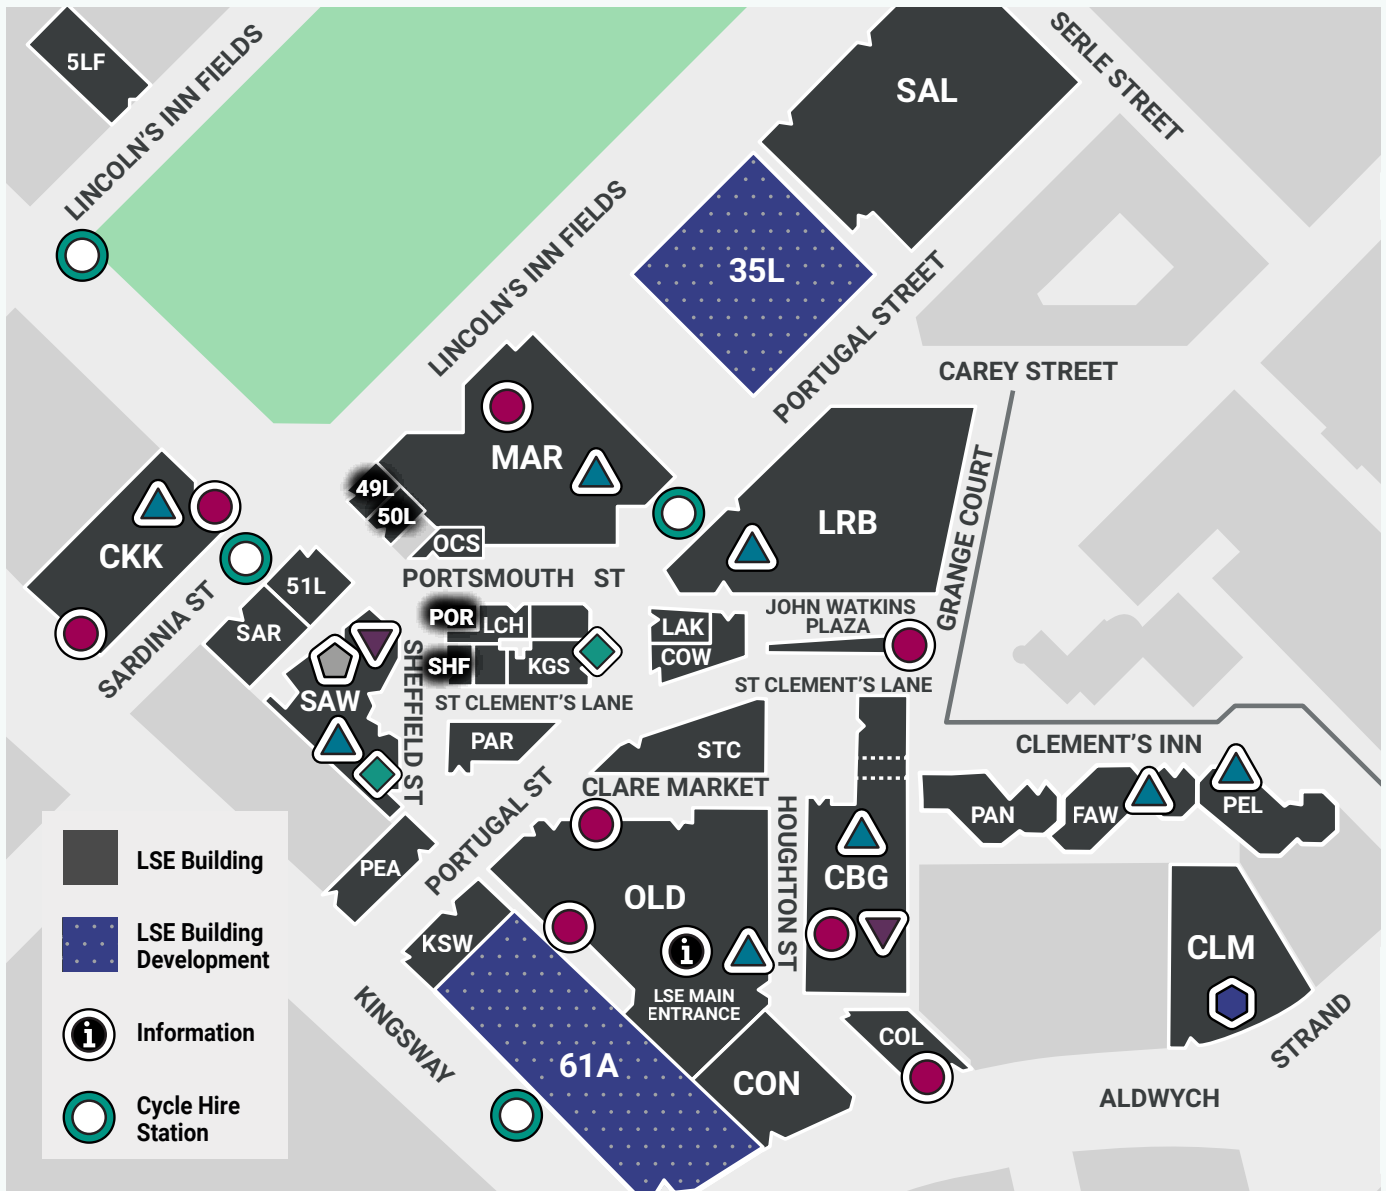

Here's how:

- Subscribe to our monthly newsletter, Green Flash, for all the latest on our events, as well as news, information and opportunities.
- Follow us on socials to stay in the loop. Here's our Linktree where you'll find all the important links: @SustainableLSE.
- Take the Introduction to Sustainability at LSE module on Moodle.
- Join or lead one of our environmental societies! We have several to choose from, e.g. Sustainable Futures Society, Beekeeping Society or Green Finance. Find out more here.

Location of waste and recycling points

- LSE Shop
- Vape recycling point
- Battery recycling (current locations at reception)
- Sustainability Team Office
- Special recycling stations (desktop toners/cartridges, small electronics (WEEE))
- Charity shop donations (eg, clothes)

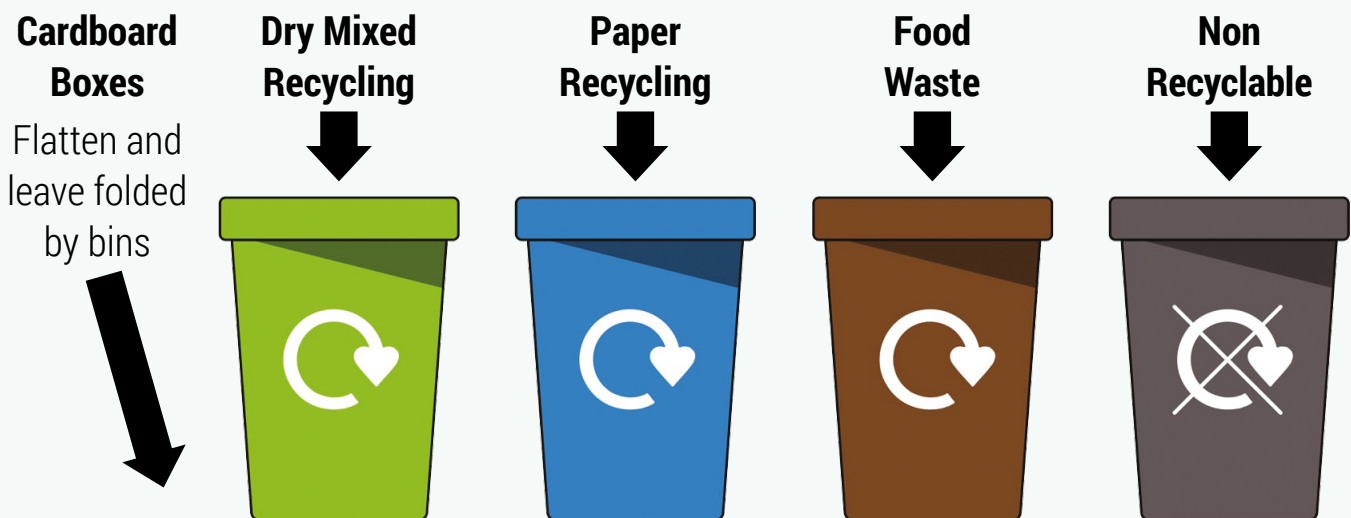

Reuse on campus

- Clothes: LSESU have a Vintage Clothing and Charity Shop in King's Chambers that welcomes donations during shop hours (see page 75 for more information). There is also a British Heart Foundation donation box located on the first floor of SAW (SU), as well as in each LSE-managed halls of residence.
- Books: Consider donating books (textbooks or otherwise) to local charity shops, including the LSESU Charity Shop on campus or selling via Hazaar.

Recycling

- Bins are located around campus, in kitchen areas, in offices and in shared spaces in halls of residence. We are all responsible for recycling correctly. For a breakdown of what goes in which bin at LSE, visit our waste and recycling page.
- Make sure no food or liquid go into mixed recycling bins. This can make other items in the recycling bin wet (contaminated) and no longer recyclable. If in doubt, keep it out!
- Spotted our red bins on campus? They're for disposable hot drinks cups! Separate the remaining liquids, the lid and the cup in the respective compartments. Try and remember your reusable hot drinks cup when visiting campus though! LSE Catering outlets sell branded KeepCups.

Special recycling

There are points on campus to recycle batteries, phones, vapes & e-cigarettes and small electrical items. See locations on the campus map on page 19, visit the waste and recycling guide or contact estates.lse.waste@lse.ac.uk for more information.

Halls of residence

All LSE-managed halls of residence have collection points, known as “ReLove” points, for you to donate your items to give them a second life.

“ReLoved” items are donated to charity, currently the British Heart Foundation (BHF). Accepted items are clothes, shoes and bedding (not duvets), books and stationery, furniture and kitchen equipment (cutlery accepted but nothing sharp). Every year around 6-7 tonnes of unwanted items are donated!

If you are unsure about how to correctly dispose of an item, or you wish to report any issues related to waste, please contact estates.lse.waste@lse.ac.uk

Being more environmentally friendly

On campus

- Why not prepare your lunches in advance and bring to campus in reusable storage containers? This not only reduces packaging, but also saves money and generally can work out healthier than grab and go convenience food.
- It is easy to avoid using single-use cutlery by having your own reusable set when you visit campus.
- Purchase your own reusable bottle/hot drink cup and bring it with you so you avoid buying single-use bottles or hot drink cups.
- Bring tote bags with you or reuse plastic bags, so you never have to accept new bags.

At home

- Soap and shampoo bars are compact, so they produce fewer emissions during transport than their liquid equivalents. They often have little (and recyclable) or no packaging compared to their plastic bottle counterparts. Lots of brands offer refill packs now too, which is a good option for reducing packaging waste.
- Reusable facial pads are machine washable, and you can use them hundreds of times (to remove your makeup etc).
- Did you know that the plastic in menstrual products such as tampons and sanitary pads are not only bad for the planet but you too? Purchase fabric pads, period pants or a menstrual cup to keep single-use plastic and waste out of your period! (plus, it's cheaper in the long run and more comfortable)

Transport and facilities for cyclists

Walking

The easiest and cheapest way to get to know London and move between the LSE campus and most halls of residence is by walking.

Central London suffers from poor air quality but by avoiding the main roads with highest concentrations of traffic you can reduce your exposure to air pollution by 30-60 per cent.

Plan your route with the Mayor of London Clean Air Route finder; explore real time pollution spots from London Air Quality Network.

Walk some of London's favourite routes highlighted by Transport for London.

Public transport

Full information on any form of public transport throughout London and a journey planner service for walking, cycling, underground, buses and trains can be found on the Transport for London (TFL) website: tfl.gov.uk campus: Holborn (Central Line and Piccadilly Line), Covent Garden (Piccadilly Line), Temple (Circle Line and District Line), Leicester Square (Northern Line), Charing Cross (Bakerloo Line), Waterloo (Jubilee Line) and Farringdon (Metropolitan Line and Hammersmith and City Line).

The following London Underground (tube) stations are near the LSE

Buses that stop on or near the Aldwych are numbers:

1, 9, 15, 23, 26, 59, 68, 76, 87, 91, 172, 188, 243, 341 and SL6.

Each bus stop should show which buses stop there and their frequency.

On the front of the bus the final destination will be given. It may also show the names of the main stops on its route.

The closest mainline rail stations to the LSE campus are as follows:

Waterloo – on the other side of the river from the Strand over Waterloo Bridge. Approximately 10-15 minutes walk.

Trains to and from the south coast and south west of England.

Charing Cross – on the Trafalgar Square end of the Strand. Approximately a 10 minute walk. Trains mainly to south east London and Kent.

City Thameslink – on Ludgate Hill at the end of Fleet Street. Approximately 10-15 minutes walk. Trains to Brighton (including Gatwick airport) and Bedford (including Luton airport).

Blackfriars – on the Embankment near Blackfriars Bridge. Approximately 10-15 minutes walk. Trains mainly to south London and south east England, but also the First Capital Connect line through north London.

Farringdon or Tottenham Court Rd – both approximately 15 minutes walk. Trains to Heathrow or Reading and Abbey Wood or Shenfield on the new Elizabeth Line.

Euston – on Euston Road, close to the northern end of Tottenham Court Road. Approximately 30 minutes walk. Trains to the north of England.

King's Cross – on Euston Road, close to the British Library. Approximately 30 minutes walk. Trains to the north of England and to Scotland.

St Pancras International – on Euston Road, close to King's Cross station. Approximately 30 minutes walk. Serves the Eurostar and trains to the Midlands and Kent.

Liverpool Street – past St Paul's Cathedral and the Bank of England from the end of Fleet Street. Approximately 30 minutes walk. Trains to Stansted Airport and Southend Airport.

Cycling to LSE

Riding a bike is good for your health, good for the environment, cost effective and great fun. What's more, there are plenty of facilities and apps to get you on your way and discovering new places!

You can select quiet cycle routes using the City Mapper app.

You can also use the bicycle icon on Google Maps and the Transport for London journey planner to work out the best way to go.

To find out more about options for hiring or buying a bike join the LSE Bicycle User Group @LSEBUG.

If you are a keen cyclist wishing to make cycling safer for all or an amateur cyclist hoping to find out more, join the LSE Bicycle User Group Teams Channel, by following this link.

Check out our dedicated webpage with a map showing the location of all cycle parking, maintenance and shower facilities across campus and links to information on safer cycling routes produced by The Northbank and TFL.

The Santander Cycle Hire Scheme have docking stations on Houghton Street, Portugal Street, Sardinia Street, Kingsway and Lincoln's Inn Fields. The bikes are available 24 hours a day and are great for short journeys around central London.

Cycle facilities on campus

There are 467 (mostly indoor) day-use cycle parking spaces on campus with access restricted to LSE students and staff only, as well as 526 open access spaces. Access to indoor parking, in the basement of FAW and MAR, is determined by the building access you have been assigned on your LSE swipe card. These facilities are monitored by the LSE Security CCTV. Please call Security on 020 7955 6200 should you need assistance.

Bicycles must be stored in designated bicycle storage facilities, and are not permitted in any other locations on campus (ie, not inside office space or left in communal areas).

Folding bikes measuring no greater than 565mm (h) x 586mm (w) x 270mm (d) should be folded prior to entering any campus buildings and stored safely within office space or in folding bike lockers provided in MAR B1.04.

We have improved lighting and wayfinding in the basement of FAW and created additional shower facilities (5 gender neutral shower rooms) plus a drying room (FAW B.14A - items left at owners risk).

There are open access cycle parking spaces bordering the campus on Kingsway and Aldwych.

All LSE halls of residence have cycle parking facilities.

Cycle maintenance

Bicycle pumps can be found in FAW/MAR cycle parking areas, on John Watkins Plaza (opposite the Library) and outside SAW (opposite Parish Hall).

There is a bike maintenance station at Bankside House hall.

Look out for Dr Bike pop ups (free bike checks and basic repairs) and bike marking pop-up sessions on campus, which generally occur termly. These are promoted by Sustainable LSE team on social media, and in the student newsletter.

Social and green spaces

The LSE campus offers many areas of communal space for meeting and socialising, and is within close walking distance of some of the most attractive green spaces in central London.

In addition to the surrounding green space we are also adding more spaces and enhancing biodiversity across campus by utilising aspects of the urban environment such as rooftops and walls. We have a green roof on the 5th floor of Saw Swee Hock Student Centre, 6th floor of St Clement's and another on top of the Plaza Cafe plus a brown roof on Connaught House, a green wall on the Old Building and planters with nectar rich plants to support the LSE bees. Our resident beehives and the roof top garden outside the Shaw Library are managed by the Beekeeping Society and Roof Top Garden Group respectively. To find out more visit

Our-Clubs-and-Groups

Centre Building, learning commons

On the ground floor there are a variety of study spaces, providing opportunities for students to engage in different modes of informal collaborative working, offering the ability to learn and create in a fun and inspiring way. There are quiet study spaces for individual work and small group huddles, nooks suitable for brainstorming ideas and casual meetings further away from the main circulation areas, where you are less likely to be disturbed. Larger group work and more transient interactions are encouraged in the open plan spaces nearer to the cafe and main entrance.

Cheng Kin Ku Building communal areas

The Cheng Kin Ku Building offers several high quality spaces for social interaction. Soft seating can be found in the lower ground lobby and on the two mezzanine levels. The 8th floor pavilion and roof terrace with biodiversity planting are also available when not reserved for meetings/private functions.

Departmental common rooms

Some academic departments and research centres offer their students common rooms and study space. Please check with your department/centre manager to see if any space has been allocated for this by your department or research centre.

Escape social space in the Library

This social space in the Library foyer is ideal for relaxing, eating and chatting on your mobile during breaks from studying.

John Watkins Plaza

In front of the main entrance to the LSE Library is John Watkins Plaza, which is an excellent meeting point as it is one of the most spacious areas on campus. It also has ample seating and its own cafe with a green roof.

Lincoln's Inn Fields

Adjacent to the LSE campus is Lincoln's Inn Fields. Numerous park benches and open lawn space make this one of the best places to relax near campus and a lovely place for quiet study under a tree.

Lincoln's Inn Private Gardens

By courtesy of the Masters of the Bench this secluded garden is open to the public Monday – Friday from 12 noon – 2.30pm. The main entrance to the garden can be found at the south east corner of Lincoln's Inn Fields near to SAL.

LSE Faith Centre

The Faith Centre, found on the 2nd floor of SAW, is a unique space on campus. It is home to the LSE's diverse religious activities, transformational interfaith leadership programmes, wellbeing classes, and a reflective space for students away from the noise of campus life. You can find The Cave for meditation, male and female Islamic prayer rooms and a bookable space for all student faith societies.

The Faith Centre is open every day from 9.30am to 5.30pm, with your LSE student card needed for out of hours access. Ask at the Faith Centre reception for more details on our programmes.

LSE public square

Created as part of the Centre Building redevelopment scheme, this landscaped central plaza is at the heart of LSE. The pedestrianised square is used for School events and creates opportunities for social interactions and helps to enhance the biodiversity of the campus.

LSE roof terraces

Good weather and views across London and the campus can be enjoyed from our numerous roof terraces. Continuing the LSE tradition of using our roofscapes to their full potential, each terrace is landscaped and is provided with seating so you can sit back and relax with your friends. Please do not place additional furniture on these terraces as it gets damaged in the rain. Smoking (which includes electronic vaping and herbal cigarettes) is not permitted on any terrace.

LSE Sportsground

LSE has 23 acres of playing fields in New Malden, Surrey (a 22 minute train ride out of Waterloo).

Sporting amenities and facilities are available for hire by staff and students of the School and by external users when not in use by the Athletics Union. More information is available on the LSE Sportsground web page.

Marshall Building learning commons

Informal study space is provided on the ground floor and levels 1 and 2 with an array of furniture types to enable group and individual working, all with charging facilities.

There is a café on the ground floor, bench seating, armchairs, pods and windows that open onto the street. On levels 1 and 2 you will find circular seating for large groups and four-seater AV booths that allow groups to share work on large wall mounted screens as well as individual quiet spaces.

Music practice rooms

There is a music practice room adjoining the Shaw Library, 6th floor Old Building and another in Lincoln Chambers basement (no lift access). Three other dedicated music practice rooms are situated in the basement of Marshall Building. To use these rooms you need to be a member of the LSESU Music Society.

Peacock Theatre

Sadler's Wells Theatre organises most of the shows and events that are held at the Peacock Theatre, which in recent years have featured some of the most popular alternative shows in London. LSE students aged 16 - 30 can purchase £10.00 tickets through our Barclays Dance Pass scheme.

(If you are a registered user and are already logged into your Sadler's Wells account, please log out and return to this page in order to sign up to Barclays Dance Pass.)

Whether it's ballet, hip hop, contemporary dance or tap, our theatres are the place to see inspiring, entertaining and outright stunning dance in the UK.

It's totally free to join, you don't pay transaction fees and we've got your mates covered too; bring a friend aged 16-30 for the same price.

PhD Academy

Situated on 4th floor of Lionel Robbins Building this is a dedicated space and services hub for doctoral candidates studying at LSE (LSE swipe card access). In addition it contains a kitchen, eating area and soft seating.

Saw Swee Hock Student Centre

Home to the Students' Union, LSE Careers and other services. The SU office can be found on the third floor where the reception team and SU staff can help with sports clubs, student societies, campaigns and the Advice Service. The media centre, situated on the second floor, brings all SU media into one space including The Beaver, Pulse Radio, LooSE TV and Clare Market Review. The building also includes the Gym, Activity Studio and ample seating and social spaces to relax. Microwaves are located on the second floor.

The Hall-Carpenter Room

This space in the Saw Swee Student Centre has been established to cultivate an environment of inclusivity, understanding, and collaboration. It is designed for staff and students to, for example, hold events, discussions and to host initiatives that promote inclusivity and intersectionality; and grow relationships with each other. Users of the space must book it ahead of time, except for weekly regular time slots that are dedicated to socialising. Find more details here.

Sir Arthur Lewis Building

You will find a number of break out spaces located throughout the basement, lower ground and ground floors which can be used by students to work or meet socially and relax.

The Shaw Library (LSE Founders' Room)

Located on the 6th floor of the Old Building, this is a comfortably furnished common room and library for all members of the School. It has a pleasant ambience and is a haven of retreat for many (although it is not intended for serious study by students). The Shaw Library is regularly used for School functions.

The stock can be borrowed by LSE staff and students: up to four items may be loaned for up to three weeks. It is also the venue of the School's long standing free lunchtime recitals and concerts series. Music is an important part of LSE life. The School has its own orchestra and choir: both are conducted by professional musicians, rehearse weekly and give public performances at the end of the Autumn and Winter terms.

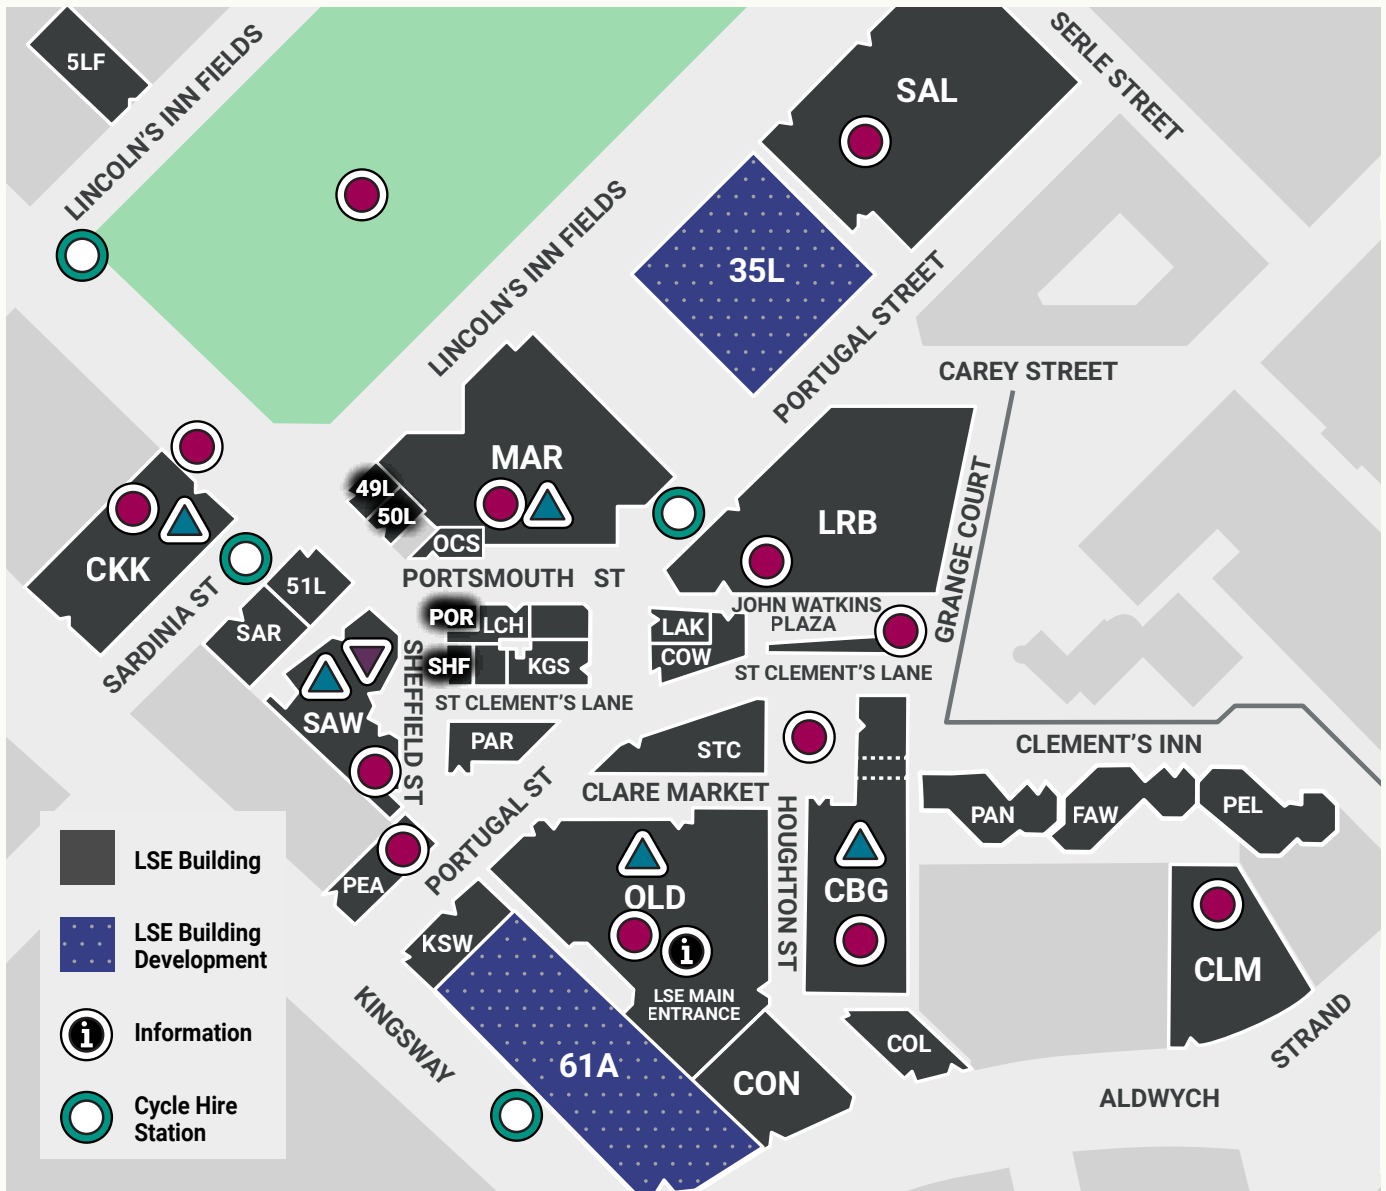

If you have any questions about the book collection in the Shaw Library, please email library.enquiries@lse.ac.uk

Students' Salon

This is a designated common room with hot water and microwave facilities for heating and eating your own food. Located on the ground floor of King's Chambers, the Salon is accessible between 8am and 10pm with swipe card access control.

Location of social and green spaces

- Communal space
- Faith Centre
- Roof terraces

Food and drink

There is a diverse range of catering facilities on the School campus offering food and drink for all tastes, dietary needs and budgets. Please discuss your requirements with the duty manager if you have allergies, a religious or lifestyle diet.

Find out more about how LSE caters to different dietary requirements like gluten-free, halal, kosher, and vegetarian here.

Wherever you decide to eat, please think about choosing healthy and sustainable options, reducing the amount of packaging from takeaways, and use the bins provided to correctly dispose of your waste.

Visit the Food Club for everything you need to know about the Food Club loyalty scheme, including how to sign up to get a free hot drink and where to collect and spend your points.

LSE KeepCup

Reduce single use plastics by purchasing a reusable LSE KeepCup from any LSE Catering outlet and receive your first hot drink free.

Bottle up – reusable water bottle

Eco friendly, reusable, plant-based water bottle with English still spring water available to purchase from LSE Catering outlets. The bottles hold up to 500ml and are £3.25 while stocks last.

Coffee cup recycling bins

If you find yourself without your KeepCup and have to resort to a disposable cup you will be pleased to hear that we now have the facility to recycle them on campus – look out for the big red bins in LSE catering outlets.

For all things food and drink on campus - opening times, menus, discounts and more visit the Food at LSE Website.

Accessibility at LSE

Accessible LSE

Lectures and seminars which are scheduled for inaccessible venues can be moved to accommodate students with mobility difficulties. Disability and Mental Health Service will liaise with Timetabling and the academic department.

Accessible and gender neutral toilets, in addition to other accessible features, are listed on the accessibility map.

AccessAble have produced detailed access guides to the LSE campus and residences, and route maps between key locations.

Please always give priority access to staff and students with disabilities when using lifts around campus.

Disability and Mental Health Service

You can find out about the student Disability and Mental Health Service here:

Disability and Mental Health Service.

DMHS can put in place support and recommend adjustments to the learning and teaching environment which will help remove barriers to disabled students.

Contact: 020 7955 7767 or email: student.wellbeing@lse.ac.uk

Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI)

The School's overall work on equity, diversity and inclusion (EDI) is led by LSE's EDI Team lse.ac.uk/edi

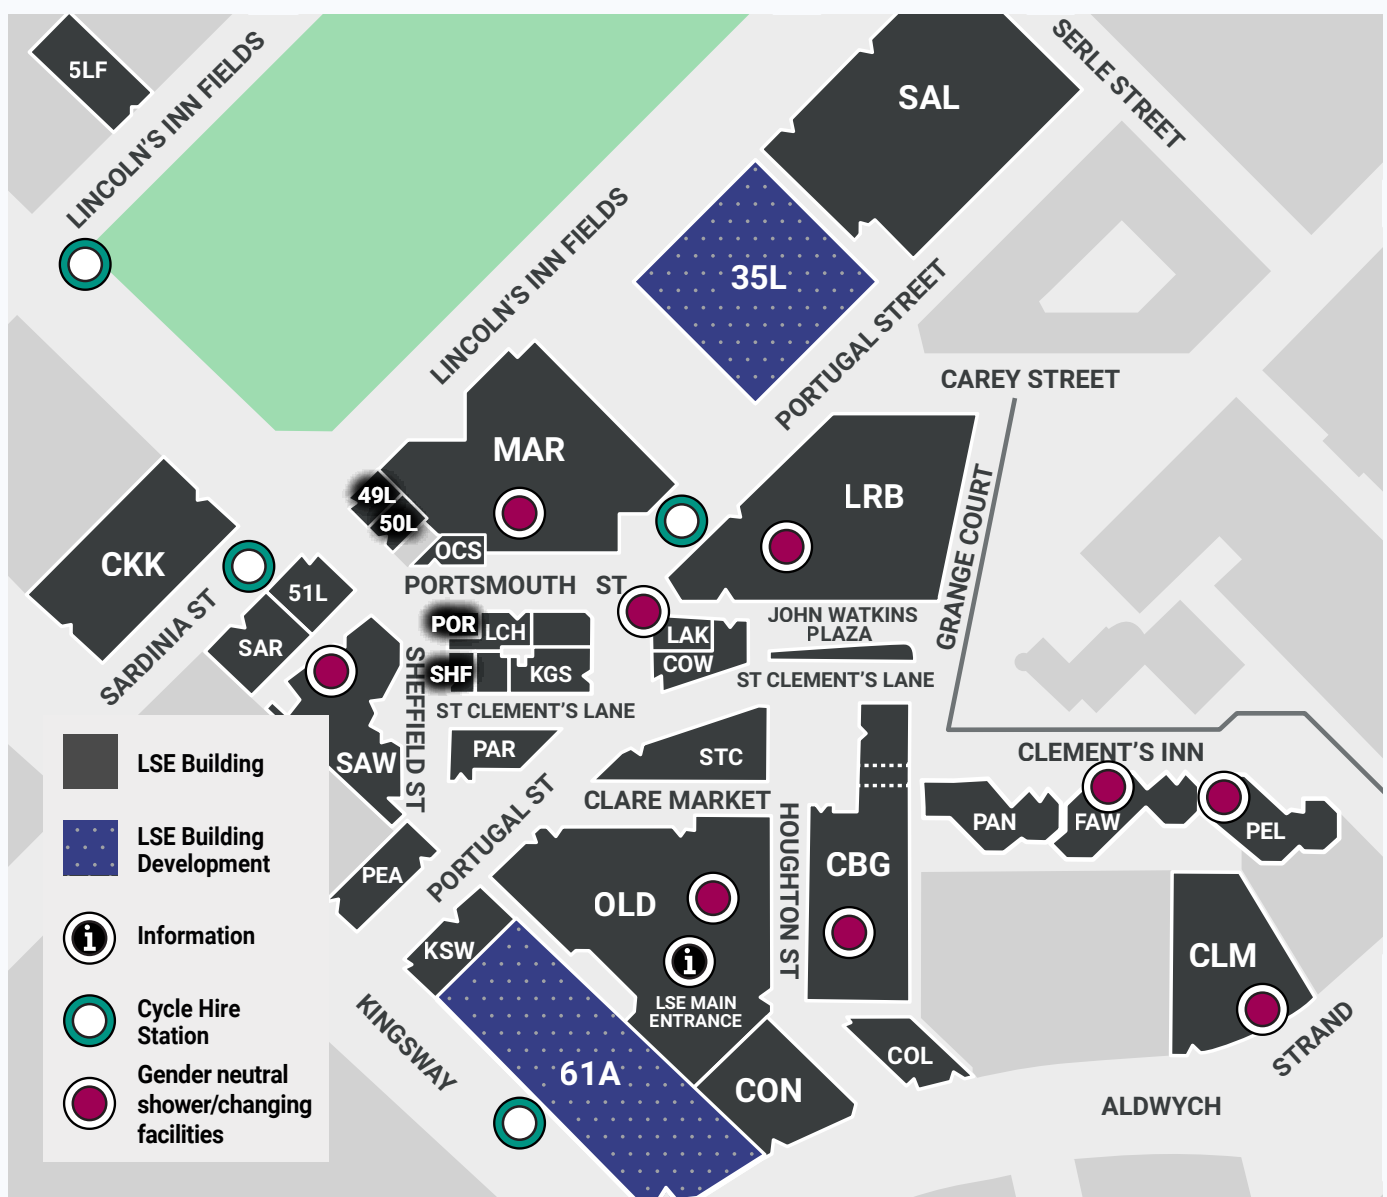

LSE supports diversity, inclusivity, equal access, equitable treatment and multicultural understanding.

Please contact the EDI Team via edi@lse.ac.uk if you need any advice regarding accessibility, they can advise on accessibility of the School Estate, buildings and facilities.

Accessible and Gender Neutral Facilities

LSE is committed to serving the needs of all its community and provides both single sex and gender neutral facilities. Gender neutral bathrooms are provided in all our buildings, in addition we have single sex and gender neutral shower and changing facilities in specific buildings. These are indicated below.

A full list of accessible and gender neutral facilities can be found here.

IT support for disabled students

LSE is committed to the provision of facilities and support for disabled students and staff, to ensure equality of access to services. Additional PCs and printing facilities for disabled students are provided in the public computer areas in the Library. For those interested in adaptive technologies and software please visit the DTS Assistive Technology website to learn more. For more information on services to support disabled people including using our collections please visit lse.ac.uk/library/using-the-library/disability-support-and-services

LSE Faith Centre

The Faith Centre, found on the 2nd floor of SAW, is a unique space on campus. It is home to LSE's diverse religious activities, and the team run an interfaith leadership programme open to students of all faiths and none. The Faith Centre also hosts wellbeing classes and serves as a reflective space for students away from the noise of campus life. Spaces available include The Cave for reflection and meditation, male and female prayer rooms and ablution facilities, and The Desert Room, a devotional space bookable by student faith societies.

The Faith Centre is open every day from 9.30am to 5.30pm, with your LSE student card needed for out of hours access. Ask at the Faith Centre reception for more details on our programmes.

LSE Student Wellbeing Service

The Student Wellbeing Service works with you and the wider school to support your wellbeing and explore and manage any challenges relating to disability or mental health so you can make the most of your LSE experience.

The team at SWS includes:

- Disability Advisers
- Wellbeing Advisers
- Mental Health Advisers
- Counsellors
- Administrators (for help booking an appointment and answering queries)

More information about the Student Wellbeing Service can be found online at lse.ac.uk/wellbeing, and any questions can be emailed to student.wellbeing@lse.ac.uk or visit Pethick Lawrence House 4.02 (enter via Fawcett House).

Study space and IT facilities

Studying in the Library

The first port of call for a place to study on campus is LSE Library. Spaces and rooms are available throughout the building – primarily at its quieter perimeters. The majority of the Library's 2,500 study places are offered on a first-come first-served basis but some spaces are bookable all year round. The Library has clearly marked coloured zonal study areas which allow users to work in the way that suits them best, depending on whether they would like to work in silent or group study working areas.

LSE LIFE, located on the ground floor of the Library, is available for solo or groupwork and offers seating that you can arrange to suit your group. There are also whiteboards and power charging points available. It is not a silent area.

Group study spaces

A variety of group study areas are available throughout the School for LSE students to undertake group work. Some are bookable whilst others are available on an open access basis, see the chart on page 57 for locations and how to book. The open access rooms are not available for pre-booking, but students are encouraged to use them for studying whenever they are free.

Informal learning spaces

You will find informal study spaces within most campus buildings. Some are bigger and more popular, others are smaller and frequented less often, which are ideal for quiet study. Centre Building offers a variety of study spaces, providing opportunities for students to engage in different modes of informal collaborative working, offering the ability to learn and create in a fun and inspiring way.

On the ground floor there are quiet study spaces for individual work and small group huddles, nooks suitable for brainstorming ideas and casual meetings further away from the main circulation areas, where you are less likely to be disturbed. Larger group work and more transient interactions are encouraged in the open plan spaces nearer to the cafe and main entrance.

The 1st and 2nd floors offer group working areas, student break out and study zones, which you may find are quieter than the ground floor areas.

Transforming lost space is a critical part of our approach to creating innovative and inspirational learning spaces for the students at LSE.

There are a number of spaces in CLM central stairwell alcoves (floors 2-5) providing students with unique, creative and innovative areas to study, collaborate, communicate and think.

Comfortable, high backed couches with homely cushions are supported by laptop desks and power to encourage students to engage in conversation or study alone in the corridors outside the 4th floor computer rooms in FAW.

The entrance of KSW has zoned bench and lounge seating, plants, bright colours and power.

In SAL there are a number of break out spaces located throughout the basement, lower ground and ground floors which can be used by students to work or meet socially and relax.

MAR has lots of informal study spaces on the ground floor and levels 1 and 2, with an array of furniture types to enable group and individual working, all with charging facilities.

CKK offers several high quality spaces for informal study and social interaction. More soft seating can be found in the lower ground lobby and on the two mezzanine levels.

Find Recharge spaces with warm lighting, power and WiFi on the ground, 1st, 2nd and 3rd floor at the rear of OLD.

The Peacock Theatre's Dress Circle Bar has comfortable seating and study alcoves, power and WiFi and is available most weekdays (9am – 5pm) during term time – please check with staff in the foyer.

SAW has space to study or relax on the 1st floor and the 6th floor.

Computer facilities for students

There are over 1,000 PCs available for students to use on campus, some of which are available 24 hours a day. Additional PCs and printing facilities for students with disabilities are available in the Library and PC areas on campus. For full details please visit DTS webpages.

iRoam laptops

iRoam, the Apple Macbook Air laptop loan service, allows LSE students to borrow a fully charged laptop for use within the Library building without needing to book in advance. The laptops provide access to Microsoft OneDrive, Microsoft Office software, selected teaching applications and the internet. Visit lse.ac.uk/iroam for more details.

Computer classrooms

There are a number of computer classrooms equipped with PCs across campus that are used for class teaching and IT skills training. They are open to any member of the School for their individual work at other times. If you are in a computer room that is required for a class, please leave the room as quickly as possible. If a class is in progress please do not enter unless you are a member of that class.

Getting help

If you have an IT issue, query or would like to request a new service, please contact Tech Support:

- By phone: 0207 107 5000 | x5000 (24hrs)
- Online: DTS Service Portal
- By email: tech.support@lse.ac.uk
- In person: Tech Support Centre, Library 1st Floor.

For details of the face to face services available in the Tech Support Centre, including opening times, please visit DTS webpages.

Printing

In line with the School's sustainability strategy, please think before you print!

However, if you do need to print, printers are available in most student PC areas and some computer rooms. MFD locations can be found here. Printing is double-sided by default. Printing costs are 3.5p per A4 side for mono printing and 10p per A4 side for colour printing. To print on any student printer at LSE, you will need credit on your printing account. You can top up your Papercut account online via Trust Payments using a debit or credit card, or add credit with cash using one of the value loaders in the Library.

For more information about print services, including how to print from your own computer or mobile device, please visit the DTS Printing on Campus page.

WiFi

eduroam is the recommended wireless network (WiFi) in use at LSE which allows secure connectivity across campus and in most LSE managed halls of residence. To get connected enable WiFi, scan and select eduroam and then log in using your LSE email address and network password.

For more information about using eduroam, please visit the DTS page. For more information about technology services at LSE, please visit the DTS webpages.

LSE Faith Centre

LSE Faith Centre is committed to creating an inclusive campus for students and staff of all faiths and none. Whether you want to use our space to worship, learn more about the diverse backgrounds and faith traditions of your fellow students, or participate in a variety of wellbeing activities, there's something for everyone at the Faith Centre.

Faith provision on campus

We support students of faith and faith societies in their religious observance and requirements on campus, in the classroom and beyond. The Faith Centre spaces include Islamic prayer rooms and ablution facilities, The Cave for quiet reflection or meditation, and the Desert Room, a multi-purpose space for events, worship, and meetings.

Leadership programmes

We run extra-curricular programmes for all students. Our three modules explore the intersection of religion and critical challenges in today's world, and facilitate exploratory intersectional dialogue spaces that provide tools that support our students to discuss difficult and challenging topics to prepare them for life beyond the university. Our programme includes courses on religious imaginations, climate change, and conflict transformation. Find out more about our current Beecken Faith and Leadership programme here.

The Campus Relations programme promotes faith inclusion by building understanding, dialogue and respect across LSE. It provides faith inclusion training for staff, supports student initiatives addressing antisemitism and Islamophobia, and fosters an inclusive campus culture through collaboration. Find out more by visiting here or contacting faithcentre@lse.ac.uk

Safe reporting

We are a safe point of contact for students to report religious-based incidents of discrimination and harm to help keep our community safe. You can do this via email or come directly to speak confidentially with our team in the Faith Centre office on 2nd Floor, SAW. The team can help you with formally reporting the incident if you so wish via Report and Support.

LSE Generate

Welcome to Generate – the home of student and alumni entrepreneurship at LSE. This is the place to come to if you're interested in starting a business, learning entrepreneurial skills, or have a live business venture. We support socially responsible businesses at any stage of their business venture, here in the UK and across the globe via our international innovation hubs.

We offer:

- Access to a free co-working space, the GenDen, based on Clare Market where you can work on your business Monday-Friday from 10am-5pm with fellow entrepreneurs.
- One-to-one business support clinics with one of our Entrepreneurs-in-Residence who will offer you guidance at any stage of your business.
- Apply for our Fellowship Acceleration Programme, where you'll receive hands-on support, funding, expert coaching and be part of a founder community.
- Mentorship programme with our seasoned alumni entrepreneurs at the later stage of their business journey.
- Attend one of our social or specialist cluster events in the GenDen, ranging from Female Founders to Food and Beverage, Sustainability, Race Equity, LGBTQIA+ and Disability, Neurodiversity and Accessibility.
- Support for our community of like-minded entrepreneurs, either based in London or across the globe with international events, business building bootcamps in Lisbon.
- Monthly skill development workshops, such as our Startup School programme, teaching first time founders how to turn business ideas into a reality.

And much, much more!

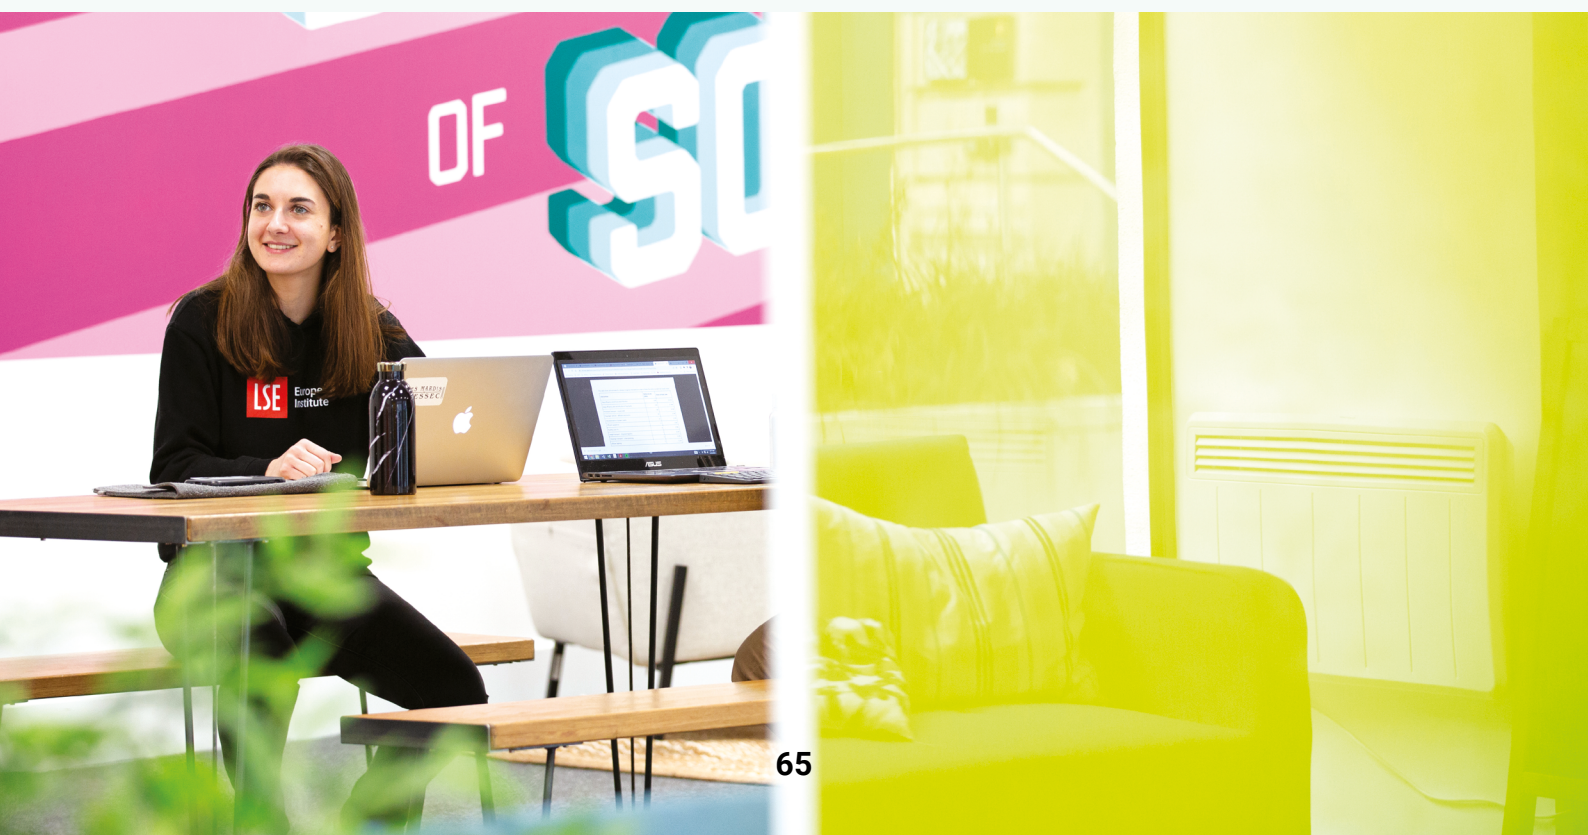

Get in touch:

Check out our co-working space at the heart of LSE campus, the GenDen, based on Clare Market. You can work on your business amongst like-minded innovators during the day and attend one of our unique social and industry panel events in the evening.

Our social media is where all the action happens and where you can hear the latest on what's happening at LSE Generate. You can keep updated through the following channels:

LSE LIFE

Think of LSE LIFE as your personal guide to LSE. We're here to help you step back, make sense of everything the School offers, and find ways to explore the skills, opportunities, and experiences that feel right for you - whether that's mastering your assignments, discovering new passions, preparing for your dream career, making new friends, or simply feeling like a real Londoner.

We map all the opportunities, support, and resources across the School and present them in one comprehensive, easy-to-use website to see it all in one place. We don't stop there – we also offer workshops, personalised one-to-one advice, and practical tools to help you consider what you want to achieve and how you'll get there.

In the LSE LIFE space on the ground floor of the Library, you can chat with us one-to-one about anything that's on your mind, and use our study space in a way that works for you – arrange the seating to suit your group, pull over a whiteboard, or chill out and play a quick board game. We also run events and workshops, carefully designed to help you develop specific skills and feel more confident studying at LSE.

Workshops

Curious to discover the range of workshops hosted in the LSE LIFE space? Some popular ones include

- Write essays that LSE markers want to read (from the Learning Lab)
- Reference with confidence (from the Library team)
- Stand up, speak out: be confident when communicating (from Student Wellbeing Service)
- How to write effective CVs (from LSE Careers)

One-to-one advice and support

Have a specific question or just want to talk something through? We gather experts from across LSE into one welcoming place, ready to offer personalised guidance, including:

- Study advisers to help you improve your academic skills
- Librarians for expert guidance on research and referencing
- Career and volunteering specialists to explore future opportunities

Special events

Looking to meet others, explore London, or make exciting new discoveries outside your studies? Join one of our engaging special events, such as:

- World Cafés: informal, vibrant discussions on diverse topics with other students and LSE academics
- Career Fairs and Volunteer Fairs: events to discover and connect with opportunities that align with your interests and goals
- Dissertation Fairs: showcases of the support on offer as you work on research projects and dissertation

LSE LIFE is at the heart of campus, located on the Library's ground floor - a vibrant, welcoming space buzzing with activity. We're here for you all year long. Drop by our reception to ask any questions you have about navigating life at LSE, and even if we can't answer directly, we'll always connect you with someone who can.

LSE Volunteer Centre

The LSE Volunteer Centre is here to inspire and empower you to volunteer for causes that you are passionate about during your time at LSE. Volunteering is a great way to help develop personal and professional skills, meet new people and make a difference in your community. We are committed to making volunteering exciting and accessible, and we collaborate with students to enhance their volunteering experiences.

Information and Advice

We offer a range of ways to get involved from the start of your LSE journey, including connecting students with long-term and short-term volunteering with our hundreds of charity partners and one-off opportunities throughout term on campus. We begin each term with a Volunteering Fair, where we invite over 50 charity partners onto campus to speak directly with students. We also host a charity on campus weekly for Charity Tuesday, to spread awareness of their mission and volunteering opportunities. At any point of the year, students have access to our ongoing volunteering vacancy board, updated daily with opportunities from charity partners. You can book a meeting with our Volunteer Centre Manager, or other Volunteer Centre colleagues, for one-to-one support.

Volunteering Programmes

The Volunteer Centre also runs multiple exciting voluntary programmes, including the Community Engagement Programme, a voluntary consultancy, the Research Volunteering Scheme, an initiative for volunteer researchers, and Community Action Projects, an opportunity to develop your own volunteering project. These programmes offer students the chance to work with other students, collaborate directly with charities, and use their degree knowledge with the mentorship and support of the Volunteer Centre. These programmes are application-based, and information is available on how to apply during Autumn Term.

Volunteer Centre Space

You can also visit the Volunteer Centre on campus on the ground floor of Lincoln Chambers, Portsmouth Street! We encourage students to visit for our weekly open hours, one-off volunteering opportunities, or for information and advice in person. Our home is an inclusive space that welcomes any students looking to get involved in volunteering.

You can find out more, as well as the advice and support we can offer in our space on campus, at lse.ac.uk/VolunteerCentre or by following @LSEVolunteering.

Accommodation and LSE Residences

Accommodation Office

The LSE Accommodation Office allocates over 4,000 places across several central London locations. This gives students unique access to a broad variety of rooms to suit different preferences, needs and budgets. Directions to halls of residence and details on prices and room types are available here. Information for residents can be found here.

Opening times: Monday – Friday, 9am – 5.30pm

Contact: 020 7955 7531

For more information: lse.ac.uk/student-life/accommodation/contact-us

Faculty accommodation

LSE Residential Services offer a range of accommodation for staff and visitors affiliated to the School. Available both on campus and in halls of residence, our rooms, studios and apartments are an ideal base for new and visiting staff, conference delegates and external speakers. For more information, contact 0203 437 0050 or visit our website.

Stay at LSE – a great alternative to London hotels

Our halls of residence offer good quality, centrally located accommodation to the general public during the winter, spring and summer vacations. A small number of rooms are available all year round. Staff, students and alumni receive a 20 per cent discount, ideal for friends and family coming to visit you in London. For more information or to book contact 020 3437 0050 or visit stayatlse.co.uk

Planning and booking events

Room bookings

LSE Students' Union Societies and Clubs can apply for room booking privileges to book LSE rooms for their events. Once a Society or Club is fully registered with the Students' Union, up to three committee officers are automatically enrolled on the LSESU Room Bookings Training Moodle module. Upon successful completion, LSE Room Bookings typically grants booking access to two committee members.

Except for the music practice rooms, which are only bookable by Music Society members, individual LSE students cannot make room bookings. If you want to make room bookings for an academic purpose you will need to approach a member of staff in your department and ask if they can make a booking on your behalf.

Events in SAW

The Students' Union is responsible for room bookings in SAW. Depending on layout, the basement social space "The Venue" holds up to 820 people; The Three Tuns pub can welcome up to 200 people and the 6th floor can accommodate up to 150. The spaces can be booked for events by students, societies, LSE staff and external hirers. For all event enquiries in SAW, please contact su.events@lse.ac.uk and your email will be sent on to the bookings team. The Hall-Carpenter Room has been established to hold up to 33 people for small events that promote inclusivity and intersectionality. Users of the space must book it ahead of time, except for weekly regular time slots that are dedicated to socialising. Find more details here.

Public events

LSE students and staff are encouraged and welcome to attend the many public events that the School organises each academic year featuring high profile speakers from across the world. The events programme attracts thousands of people to LSE every term with details available from lse.ac.uk/events – do take some time to check out what is coming up so you don't miss out! The EDI Calendar also advertises a variety of EDI-related activities and events. Most of our events are now available for download as podcasts and videos at lse.ac.uk/lse-player, attracting audiences from across the world. As well as public events the School has a programme of arts and music events, more details of these can be found at lse.ac.uk/arts. Watch out also for the LSE Festival, which normally takes place in the Spring Term, information about previous festivals and next years will be available from lse.ac.uk/Events/LSE-Festival/About-the-LSE-Festival. LSE also hosts a series of lunchtime concerts which happen each Thursday in the Shaw Library, 6th floor, OLD at 1.05pm in the Autumn and Winter Term. More information can be found at lse.ac.uk/music

Accessibility

The EDI Team have created a guide for ensuring that events are accessible – whether they are in-person, or hybrid.

Poster policy

There are notice boards in the main entrances of most campus buildings and departments/research centres. Use of these notice boards should be sanctioned by the relevant Students' Union societies/academic department/research centre and posters must be securely fastened to boards to prevent fire spread. We are trying to prevent fly posting to keep the campus tidy and therefore will remove posters not displayed in approved areas. With agreement of the Director of Facilities Management (a.blair1@lse.ac.uk) exemption can be given in the case of way-finding posters for School events eg, LSE Open Day, visit days etc. All posters should include the LSE logo and a box stating the duration of display for the poster – maximum one month. Those failing to meet these requirements will be removed.

Off campus events

Are you arranging an event for LSE students or your society? Why not consider hosting it at the LSE Sportsground at Berrylands? It is only a 22 minute train journey from Waterloo. Set in 23 acres of countryside, the pavilion boasts a dining hall with balcony and veranda and kitchen. Perfect for team building and fund raising events with a sporting theme (external catering can be arranged). See page 72 for contact details.
