Economic History (EH courses)

All Economic History courses are controlled access and capped. Priority will be given to students for whom the course is within their programme regulations.

All course choices submitted before the deadline will be considered. It is advisable that students submit a statement in support of their course choices as these will be used to allocate places where a course is oversubscribed. First round offers will be sent on Monday 25th September. Students who submit their course choices after the deadline and students wishing to take an Economic History course as an outside option will be waitlisted initially and informed by Wednesday 27th September whether they have been successful.

Once an offer has been sent, you have 48 hours to accept it before it times out. Once an offer has timed out, it will be re-allocated to someone on the waitlist.

In all cases, it is strongly advised that you have an alternative course choice as a back-up in case you are unable to secure your first choice. If you have any questions, please contact the MSc Programmes Officer (o.harrison1@lse.ac.uk)

A list of all taught master's courses in this Department are listed on LSE's course guide webpages. Guidance on how to apply to individual controlled access courses can also be found on LSE for You.

Geography and Environment (GY courses)

Priority is typically for students enrolled in Geography and Environment programmes, or joint degree programmes, however course specific availability is indicated via the 'Availability section' on the LSE course guide webpages. Guidance on how to apply to individual controlled access courses can also be found on LSE for You in the Graduate Course Selection system.

Please note: The number of students that can be accommodated is limited. If a course is over-subscribed, places will be allocated at the Department's discretion and a waiting list may be created. It is advised to have an alternative course in mind as a back-up in case you are unable to secure your first-choice course selection.

For further details, please contact the Department Programme Coordinators via email at geog.pg@lse.ac.uk. The list of all Geography and Environment staff can be found here.

Further guidance and information on course selection for Geography and Environment courses (GY4xx) will be available on the Geography and Environment Course Selection Moodle page which will go live from Monday 5 September and will be updated with course availability information daily throughout the course selection period. This page includes information on the timeline for course selection decisions in the Geography and Environment Department.

A list of all taught master's courses in this Department are listed on LSE's course guide webpages.

If you have further queries, please contact the Department directly.

Sociology

All Sociology courses are ‘Controlled Access’.

Other than for students in the first category below, when applying for a course all students are required to provide a written statement explaining why they wish to take that course.

Statements are considered by the Course Convenor and, where merited by the statement, places are usually awarded in the following priority order:

- 1) Students for whom the course is a ‘core course’ on their Programme Regulations (these students should already be allocated to the course in LSE for You – i.e. no written statement is required).
- 2) Students for whom the course appears as an ‘optional core course’ on their Programme Regulations (where students have to choose between a small number of core options).
- 3) Students for whom the course appears as an optional course on their Programme Regulations, space permitting.
- 4) All other students – with priority given to MSc students within the Sociology Department.

Please note: The number of students that can be accommodated on most courses is limited. If a course is over-subscribed, places will be allocated at the Department’s discretion. Therefore, you are advised to have an alternative course in mind as a back-up in case you are unable to secure your first-choice course selection. For further details, please contact the Sociology Department’s MSc Programme Managers.
