

EMAIL ONE

Dear LSE Student Name,

You have received this email because you are a US student studying at The London School of Economics and are due payment of your US student loan.

The London School of Economics has partnered with Western Union Business Solutions to collect your United Kingdom bank account information, so that you may promptly receive the balance of your student loan to you in British Pound (GBP).

Please carefully follow the instructions below to ensure that your student loan is processed in a timely manner.

Instructions:

1. Please access the WU® GlobalPay platform using the following temporary login details:
 - Click the link to go to WU GlobalPay: <https://geo4fi-demo.fi.westernunion.com/geo/>
 - Enter the User ID: XXXXXXXX
 - Enter the password that has been sent to you in a separate email.
2. Once you are logged in, please specify and save your banking details so that the balance of your student loan can be paid directly to your United Kingdom bank account in GBP.

Please note: To maintain application security, your login access is only valid for a one-time use and is set to automatically expire on 15/09/2018 15:35:49 UTC. If you do not access the application within this timeframe, you can contact The London School of Economics US Loan department to generate a new set of login details for you.

If you have further questions or have any feedback for us, please consult the WU GlobalPay FAQs page for your regional help line.

Sincerely,

Western Union Business Solutions Team

Please do not reply to this automatic email.

Western Union Business Solutions accepts payments and provides foreign exchange services on behalf of its clients and not as a payment service provider for the payors.

EMAIL 2

Dear LSE Student,

You have received this email because you are a US student studying at The London School of Economics and are due payment of your US student loan.

The London School of Economics has partnered with Western Union Business Solutions to collect your United Kingdom bank account information, so that you may promptly receive the balance of your student loan to you in British Pound (GBP).

Please note: To maintain application security, your login access is only valid for a one-time use. It is set to automatically expire on 15/09/2018 15:35:49 UTC. If you do not access the application within this timeframe, you can contact The London School of Economics US Loan Department to generate a new login password for you.

This is your one-time password to access the WU® GlobalPay platform. Use this to input your bank account details so that we can promptly pay your loan balance.

Password: XXXXXXXXX

If you have further questions or have any feedback for us, please consult the WU GlobalPay FAQs page for your regional help line.

Sincerely,

Western Union Business Solutions Team

Please do not reply to this automatic email.

Western Union Business Solutions accepts payments and provides foreign exchange services on behalf of its clients and not as a payment service provider for the payors.