1 Introduction

Unless otherwise stated, the terms and conditions in this handbook apply to all academic staff (Assistant, Associate, Full Professor and those previously appointed as Lecturers, Senior Lecturers, Readers and Professors).

The standard terms and conditions of employment relating to academic staff shall only be amended after negotiation with the local University and College Union (UCU).

A review of these conditions may be initiated either by the School or by UCU.

2 Contract of employment

Employment is on the basis of a written contract, which consists of a letter of appointment, this handbook and other procedures specified in [sections 38 and 39 of] this handbook.

The letter of appointment specifies each member of staff's job title, initial place of work and starting salary.

If the appointment was made on a part-time basis and/or for a fixed period of time or open-ended subject to funding, this will be stated in the letter of appointment. Otherwise, unless subsequently agreed otherwise, the appointment will be on a full-time basis and for an indefinite period.

The contents of this handbook and any subsequent amendments are the "Terms and Conditions of Employment" referred to in the letter of appointment. Where these Terms and Conditions refer to School policies or procedures, these can be found at info.lse.ac.uk/staff/services/Policies-and-procedures. Where these Terms and Conditions refer to School guidance or information, these can be found on the School's website as indicated in the relevant sections of this handbook.

In case of a conflict between these standard terms and conditions and the letter of appointment, the letter of appointment shall take precedence.

The School has outlined role profiles for academic staff at each level. These role profiles identify the range of activities that are likely to be associated with a specific role. However, the range and balance of activities in a particular role will vary within and between departments and during the career of any individual.

All staff are expected to comply with the Departmental Code of Governance which is available on the School website.

All academic staff are expected to attend the School where necessary to carry out their contractual duties. These duties include teaching, office hours, departmental meetings and other in person academic support meetings.

Members of staff should provide full details of their name, home address, bank account and emergency contacts to Human Resources and they must inform Human Resources of any subsequent changes.

Academic Review

The employment of a new member of academic staff as an Assistant Professor is on an open-ended basis linked to the successful completion of both Interim and Major Review (the School's probationary period/process for academic staff).

The School's expectation is that those appointed to the level of Assistant Professor will normally pass Interim and Major Review within eight years (five years for those appointed post-Interim Review before 2017 and four years for those appointed post-Interim Review from 2017 onwards).

The School believes strongly in developing the potential of the Assistant Professors it recruits. The School recognises that individuals will be appointed who are at different stages of their academic careers and considers that a process of structured review is beneficial to those employees and the School. Upon successful completion of Major Review there will be automatic promotion from Assistant Professor to Associate Professor and appropriate salary amendment.

The aim of the Interim Review is to assess the progress of Assistant Professors during the early part of their appointments and to confirm whether they are on track for a successful Major Review.

Should members of staff not pass the Review (at either Interim or Major Review stage) this will be confirmed in writing and employment as an Assistant Professor will be terminated with contractual notice of not less than one term or ten weeks, whichever is greater. The member of staff whose contract is so terminated has the right to appeal the decision to terminate in accordance with the Appeals process contained in the Academic Annex (as amended from time to time). However, the School normally extends the staff member's notice period to one year in order to allow the staff member time to find alternative employment.

The detailed procedures relating to Interim Review and Major Review may be found in the Guidelines for Promotion and Review of Academic Staff (as amended from time to time), which are published on the Human Resources website. These guidelines are subject to periodic review and may be amended or updated as the School considers necessary. Human Resources will alert Assistant Professors to those parts of the Guidelines which are relevant their review and provide detailed information about the procedures to be followed in the review process.

The Promotions Committee is the formal School decision-making body which reaches decisions about success at Interim Review and Major Review as well as promotion.

3 Right to Work in the UK

Contracts of employment are offered subject to the right to work in the UK for the duration of employment. All employees must provide evidence that they have the right to work in the UK before they start their employment at the LSE.

LSE is required to conduct right to work checks for all new employees before they start work and to conduct new right to work checks for all employees who are returning to work at LSE after a break in employment.

Employees are not permitted to commence work until they have brought their right to work documents to the HR Division for review. Please note that HR needs to see the original documents. Scanned versions of documents are not sufficient and will not be accepted.

If an employee cannot provide proof of their right to work in the UK before they start work, their start date will be deferred and their salary payments will commence from the new start date.

If an employee extends their visa or receives a new visa during their employment at LSE they are required to bring their new visa to the HR Division for review immediately and before the expiry date of their current visa.

Employees who cannot show that they have the right to work in the UK during their employment at LSE will be at risk of termination.

The School's policies and procedures relating to 'Right to Work in the UK' will be subject to review and change in line with changes to Government legislation.

4 Salary

The starting salary for an appointment shall be as set out in the letter of appointment and shall be payable monthly in arrears by bank transfer. The normal pay day is the last English banking day of each calendar month, except in December when it is the last English banking day before Christmas Day.

If an appointment is part-time, the salary shall be pro-rated accordingly.

Pay awards are periodically applied to adjust the values of points on pay scales, usually from 1 August each year. Pay awards are negotiated at a national level by the Joint Negotiating Committee for Higher Education Staff (JNCHES), which includes representatives of the Universities and Colleges Employers' Association (UCEA) and Higher Education unions, including the Universities and Colleges Union (UCU), UNISON and Unite. Academic staff will be eligible to be considered for annual contribution pay arrangements which are designed to give recognition to teaching, research and citizenship contribution. Awards under these arrangements can either be consolidated pay increases or lump sum awards.

Any change in salary, other than pay awards outlined above, shall be confirmed in writing.

Members of staff shall be supplied each month with a payslip, on the LSE's employee self-service system MyView that sets out gross salary due, tax, National Insurance and other deductions made and net salary paid. Any errors in salary payments or deductions should be reported to the Payroll team immediately. The School reserves the right to make deductions from salary to recover over-payments or other sums owed by the member of staff to the School.

As a general rule the School does not make advances of salary.

5 Occupational Pension Arrangements

Staff will normally be eligible to join the Universities Superannuation Scheme (USS). Full details of USS are available from HR. Your potential membership of and rights under USS are subject to the Rules of USS from time to time in force and at the discretion of the Trustees of USS. USS is a contributory scheme and the current contribution rates can be found on the Human Resources website.

USS Plus is a salary sacrifice scheme, by which a member's basic salary (and any other pensionable salary elements) will be reduced by a percentage rate as per USS Rules, with the School contributing to USS on behalf of members. PAYE Income Tax and National Insurance will be calculated on the adjusted salary. As there are no employee contributions to USS Plus, should staff decide to opt out of the scheme or leave the School, they will not be entitled to any refund.

Alternatively, should staff decide that they may wish to opt out of USS to get a refund of contributions (within a maximum period of two years), they can instead join USS Standard. Employee pension contributions under USS Standard are not subject to PAYE Income Tax, but National Insurance is payable.

If a member of staff is eligible to join USS and elects not to do so, they must submit a signed pension opt out form to this effect to HR Operations, found on the Scheme website. Should they initially elect not to join USS, they will have the option of subsequently joining subject to USS Rules and the USS Trustee Company's discretion on eligibility from time to time in force. However, membership and pension benefits would not be backdated.

Members of staff should consider carefully whether electing not to join USS is in their interest - ideally they should seek independent financial advice - as membership of USS currently includes a number of benefits including death-in-service insurance. If a member of staff elects not to join USS, they will be reassessed under auto-enrolment rules periodically and may be re-entered into the scheme. If re-entered into the scheme, an election to opt out can be re-submitted.

For further information on USS, please email HR.Pensions@lse.ac.uk or refer to the Human Resources and USS (uss.co.uk) websites.

6 Working hours

Pay is calculated on the basis of a full-time member of staff working 35 hours per week (excluding lunch breaks). Members of staff will normally be expected to work such hours and such days as are required to fulfil the responsibilities of their contract. The normal expectation is that staff will carry out a full range of academic duties across the academic session, unless on academic leave previously approved through the normal School processes.

7 Right to request flexible working

All employees can apply for flexible working in accordance with statutory rights, which will result in a permanent change to their terms and conditions, providing they meet the following criteria:

- they have worked for the School continuously for 26 weeks at the time the request is made;
- usually they have not made another application in the previous twelve months;

Employers are obliged to consider such a request and, if it is not possible to agree to such a request, must provide a written explanation of their reasons.

The Flexible Working Policy and Procedure can be found on the HR website. For specific advice on flexible working, please contact HR.

8 Holiday

The holiday entitlement for full-time members of staff is 25 days' annual leave plus Christmas closure (five extra days) and Easter closure (three extra days) plus public holidays (eight days per year) which is set out in the School Calendar.

The holiday entitlement for part-time members of staff (whether annual leave, closure days or public holidays) is pro-rated as appropriate.

The leave year is the calendar year. (If a Christmas closure day falls in January, this is deemed to be in the previous leave year for the purposes of pro rating annual leave.)

Academic staff should discuss the precise timing of annual leave in advance with their Head of Department/Centre or Institute Director.

Holiday leave accrues from the date of appointment throughout periods of paid service including paid leave.

Holiday leave entitlement during a member of staff's first leave year shall be calculated on a pro rata basis to reflect their joining date. If a member of staff wishes to take unpaid leave to allow for arrangements made before joining the School, this can be agreed at the discretion of their Head of Department/ Centre or Institute Director.

Certain School duties attract an additional entitlement to annual leave, on the approval of Human Resources.

Up to five days' leave may be carried over from one year to the next (pro rata for part-time staff). Agreement to carry over more than this is usually given only when there are strong personal reasons or when School business has prevented staff from taking leave.

9 Career development and mentoring

The School expects that all staff who are not (full) Professors will receive good advice on progressing their careers from the Head of Department or other senior colleagues. The School has in place two approaches to structuring career development conversations between academics:

- An Academic Career Development Review (ACDR) Scheme for pre-Major Review staff and post-Major Review staff who are not yet full Professors.
- A Mentoring Scheme for pre-Major Review academic staff as well as, on their request, for post-Major Review staff.

The Mentoring Scheme is distinct from the Academic Career Development Review Scheme. Mentors give informal and frequent advice and provide a listening ear throughout the year, whereas formal Career Development Review meetings take place annually and are normally conducted by the Head of Department. They are not meant to replace regular informal meetings between staff and their mentor or staff and Heads of Department during which issues and problems can be raised.

The principal purpose of Academic Career Development Review meetings is to provide constructive advice to pre-Major Review staff on the structuring of an academic career, and specifically on what they need to do in order to progress toward Interim and/or Major Review. For post-Major Review staff who are not yet full Professors, the purpose of the Academic Career Development Review meeting is to provide constructive advice on the further development of their careers – specifically, advice on working toward promotion to Associate Professor (post-Major Review Lecturers and Assistant Professors) or promotion to Professor (Associate Professors).

Full Professors are not required to have career development meetings, however, a career development meeting will take place upon their request or the request of the Head of Department. Full Professors may be required to participate in an Annual Performance Review. The Mentoring Guidelines for Newly Appointed Academic Staff are available on the Human Resources website.

Academic Staff are also offered a programme of induction activities run by the Teaching and Learning Centre.

Career opportunities

The School believes that the training and development of all staff is in the interests of the School, its constituent departments and of the individual staff members themselves. The Teaching and Learning Centre, LSE Research and Innovation, Library, Data and Technology Services, Human Resources Division, Language Centre and Careers Service all offer a range of internal development and support activities. This includes opportunity for one-to-one support and development around a wide range of issues, seminars and workshops, on-line resources, and in-house newsletters and guides. There is provision for staff at all stages of their careers, though there is particular emphasis on training and developments for those new to LSE with a range of specialised induction programmes. For further details on this provision, contact tlc@lse.ac.uk, or visit the Teaching and Learning website which, despite its name, also addresses issues of staff development related to research and academic management/administration and/or the various individual providers.

The School is prepared to consider sympathetically any reasonable request for a member of staff to have paid leave in order to take examinations leading to a degree or professional qualification, or in order to attend courses, conferences, and other activities which contribute to their career development, or to visit or accept secondment to other institutions or organisations. The Teaching and Learning Centre may, with advanced notice, contribute towards funding of external training, to enable staff to develop skills related to teaching and learning. This funding does not cover attendance at subject specialist conferences.

10 Academic staff leave

There are five principal forms of academic staff leave:

- i. Sabbatical leave
- ii. Travel leave which, if granted, is ordinarily granted with full salary
- iii. Short leave which is ordinarily with full salary and is granted for periods not exceeding four weeks of term
- iv. Special leave. Special leave could be in the form of the following:
 - a) external secondment
 - b) buyout
 - c) internal secondment
- v. Additional research leave

All applications for academic staff leave should be made on the appropriate application forms, available to download from the Human Resources website.

Sabbatical leave

The School fully appreciates and upholds the value of sabbatical leave for individual career development, and as a consequence for the enhancement of its academic reputation. To that end, it has established a sabbatical leave policy for career academics to ensure that such leave benefits the academic community as a whole. By custom, consideration of sabbatical leave applications has been delegated by the Council to the Director of the School.

The School has a Sabbatical Leave Policy and Procedure, which can be found on the Human Resources website. Sabbatical leave is an entitlement but when it can be taken and the purposes for which it can be taken are subject to rules and regulations as laid out in the Sabbatical Leave Policy and Procedure.

Travel leave

The School is prepared to consider applications from members of academic staff for travel leave. Such leave may be granted in order that applicants may undertake a journey which is of specific value either to their research or to their teaching. The grant of travel leave will, in general, be without reduction of salary or allowances.

The Director or Pro-Director Faculty Development may determine that a deduction from the member of staff's salary should be made in relation to their travel leave, equivalent to any payment receivable by the member of staff from some external source which in the Director's or Pro-Director's opinion covers or partially covers expenditure that would ordinarily be met out of the applicants' salary and allowances.

Travel leave will be granted on the understanding that the teaching duties of the member of staff will be shared by their colleagues and that no expenditure will be incurred by the School in engaging additional teaching help for the purpose.

Applications for Travel leave should be made to the Head of Department on the appropriate application form.

Short leave

The School is prepared to consider applications from members of the academic staff for short leave for academic or other purposes. Such leave may be granted to a member of the academic staff for any period not exceeding four weeks during term time without reduction of salary or allowances.

Applications for short leave periods not exceeding one week should be made to the Head of Department of the applicant's department, who has authority to grant it. Applications for short leave periods exceeding one week should be made to the Head of Department in the first instance. However, the authority to grant such leave lies with the Director who may delegate the authority to the Pro-Director Faculty Development.

Special leave

Members of the academic staff may apply for special leave in order to visit another academic institution, or to accept some temporary appointment (which may be part of an externally-funded research project) relevant to their academic work. Members of staff may also apply for an internal secondment in order to carry out teaching and/or research in a Centre or Institute.

The procedure for considering these applications is designed to balance the opportunities for individuals against the need to maintain the quality of staff working in the departments of the School.

Applicants for special leave may wish to establish the implications of their proposed work for promotion and/or review in consultation with their Head of Department.

Members of staff who have been granted special leave without pay should arrange to see Human Resources before departure, so that questions relating to the recovery of Superannuation and National Insurance Contributions can be settled.

Special leave is divided into three categories, according to whether or not the person concerned is paid by the School during the period of leave. If the member of staff is paid directly by an outside body, the arrangement is termed "secondment". If the member of staff is paid through the School, and the department concerned receives some compensation from an outside body or an earmarked School Fund, the arrangement is termed "buyout". An "internal transfer" is a temporary reallocation of an individual's duties within the School, in which no direct payment from an outside body is involved.

(a) External Secondment

Individuals who wish to be seconded should discuss the arrangements with the proposed sponsor. Sponsors should be alerted to the fact that the School will wish to clarify arrangements for superannuation and related matters, and that in some circumstances it may claim additional compensation for the loss of services of the person concerned. A member of staff may apply to be seconded for a period of up to two years. In cases where a strong case can be made on the grounds of public service, the Director or Pro-Director Faculty Development may agree to extend the period, subject to an absolute limit of, normally, three years.

Secondment shall ordinarily be subject to the condition that, for a determined period, no salary or other allowances will be payable by the School to the applicant. The period during which the applicant's salary shall not be payable are:

- where the secondment is granted for three consecutive terms, a period of twelve calendar months, beginning on a specified date.
- where the secondment is granted for less than three consecutive terms, a period beginning on the first day of leave that falls in term and ending on the last such day.

However, if the Director or Pro-Director Faculty Development is satisfied that an adjustment is necessary to prevent the applicant being in a worse financial position because of the grant of secondment, the Director or Pro-Director may authorise payment to the applicant of a proportion not exceeding 50 per cent of the salary and allowances normally payable by the School (or, with the approval of the Director or Pro-Director a proportion exceeding 50 per cent, but not exceeding 100 per cent).

The School may require applicants for secondment to seek the agreement of the institution that they are to visit to refund to the School its superannuation contributions in respect of the period for which salary is not payable. If that institution is not willing to do so, applicants may be required to surrender to the School or refund any pension or provident fund contributions or the like which may be payable to them by the other institution and which is, in the judgement of the School, appropriate to be used for this purpose. In default of any arrangement of either kind the cost of the superannuation contributions are met by the School.

Applications for Secondment should be made to the Head of Department on the appropriate application form. The Director or the Pro-Director Faculty Development will make the final decision in consultation with the Head of Department. Secondment is not a contractual entitlement.

(b) Buyout

Potential sponsors of buyouts must be recognised by the School and must provide a clear indication of the level of financial compensation available. LSE Research and Innovation will make every effort to ensure that contracts allow the School to claim compensation commensurate with the status of the person concerned, and that the maximum amount available is claimed in every case. In addition the School runs its own internal buyout scheme currently through the provision of Personal Financial Rewards (PFRs) as part of the School's Research Incentives Schemes.

A member of staff may apply for buyout of teaching and associated duties in line with restrictions imposed by the School's rules on buyout from teaching and associate duties. Each department will be expected to ensure that the total level of absences for all reasons does not exceed what is appropriate to its size and needs, and that the entitlement to sabbatical leave is given precedence over other types of absence.

Applications for Buyouts should be made to the Head of Department on the appropriate application form. All buyout arrangements are subject to the Head of Department's approval. Buyout from teaching and associated duties is not a contractual entitlement.

(c) Internal secondment

An Internal Secondment is a temporary reallocation of an individual's duties within the School, in which no direct payment from an outside body is involved. It is not subject to the conditions under (a) and (b) but all internal secondment arrangements are subject to the Head of Department's approval. Internal secondment is not a contractual entitlement.

Research Leave (New Academic Career staff only)

The purpose of research leave is for career academic staff members to re-establish their research trajectory following a long period of absence. Research leave is an automatic entitlement and one term of leave will apply in cases of maternity, paternity or adoption leave of eighteen weeks or greater. Research leave may also be applicable on a case-by-case basis following long-term absence due to ill-health. Heads of Department can make requests for academic staff to be granted research leave in other circumstances which fall outside of the above categories and these may be approved at the discretion of the Pro-Director Faculty Development, whose decision is final.

Research leave must normally be taken within two years of the employee returning to work. Research leave not taken during this timeframe will be lost, unless the Head of Department and Pro-Director Faculty Development approve an alternative arrangement in the individual case. Should an academic staff member leave the School before having taken any research leave they are entitled to, there will be no payment in lieu of untaken leave.

11 Jury service and other public duties

The School recognises the contribution made by staff to public duties in the community.

The School will pay full salary as usual whilst a member of staff is on jury service for up to two weeks. Members of staff do not therefore have to claim for loss of earnings for this period.

Where members of staff are allocated to a case that lasts more than two weeks, the School will ask them to claim for loss of earnings up to the maximum permitted by the Court. However, the School will in these circumstances still make up any shortfall between the permitted maximum and full salary. Members of staff should contact Human Resources for further advice.

During the period of jury service, there may be certain days when members of staff are given advance warning by the Court that they do not need to attend. They should come to work as normal on these days.

At the end of their period of jury service, members of staff are asked to inform Human Resources of the days when they were unable to attend work.

In accordance with statutory rights, the School permits members of staff who hold certain public positions reasonable time off (usually up to five working days) to attend meetings of the relevant body or perform duties approved by the body. This time off is unpaid.

Members of staff holding certain non-political positions may apply for paid leave under the Staff Volunteering Leave provision.

For further details, please contact Human Resources.

12 Sickness absence

Members of staff who are unfit for work, because they are sick or injured, should follow the School's, and where appropriate, departmental procedures for reporting absence. Members of staff must inform their line manager or Head of Department on the first working day of absence unless the severity of their illness prevents this, in which case they must ask somebody else to do so on their behalf. They should at the same time inform the line manager or Head of Department when it is likely that they will be fit to return to work.

On their return to work, members of staff should complete an internal sickness absence notification form.

If members of staff are unfit for work for more than one calendar week they must also, as soon as possible, provide their line manager or Head of Department with a doctor's medical certificate completed by their GP and signed by themselves.

If the period of incapacity continues, they must continue to submit medical certificates promptly for the whole period of absence until they are declared fit to return to work.

Where in some cases, to assist full recovery, members of staff return to work on an agreed phased basis (i.e. attendance for fewer days per week and/or fewer hours per day than their normal contractual hours), those hours not worked shall be deducted from their sickness entitlement. Members of staff and their managers shall continue to report unworked contractual hours as sickness absence, until there is a complete return to normal contractual hours.

Where members of staff have:

- frequent or regular periods of short term absence
- a period of long-term absence
- a health condition which is considered to be affecting performance

the School may request medical information and reports to help ascertain the medical position and its impact on attendance or performance. Further information on the School's procedures and external occupational health advisers can be found on HR web pages or from the HR Partner.

Provided that members of staff comply with the notification procedure outlined above, their salary shall be paid at full or half-rate for a period according to the rules for calculating sick pay set out below.

Failure to observe the notification procedures outlined above may result in sick pay being withheld and members of staff may become subject to the appropriate disciplinary procedure.

For the purposes of calculating contractual (occupational) sick pay (OSP) and Statutory Sick Pay (SSP), all days of the week (Monday – Sunday) are counted for both entitlement and payment purposes.

In respect of any absence due to illness, the entitlement to contractual (occupational) sick pay, and the period for which it shall be paid, shall be determined by length of service as follows:

	Full pay	Half pay
First 3 months' service	2 weeks	2 weeks
After 3 months' service	2 months	2 months
After 1 year's service	3 months	3 months
After 3 years' service	5 months	5 months
After 5 years' service	6 months	6 months

except that, i) any days of paid sickness absence in the 12 months immediately prior to the first day of the absence shall be deducted from the entitlement, ii) where an absence is separated from an earlier absence by eight weeks (that is, 56 days), or less, the two absences will be linked and the entitlement will be calculated as at the first day of the first linked absence.

If entitlement to full pay expires whilst the member of staff is absent, in exceptional circumstances at the discretion of the Director of Human Resources, salary may continue to be paid at full or a lesser rate.

In accordance with statutory rights, Statutory Sickness Pay (SSP) shall be paid to staff if they are eligible, but any SSP due shall be offset against contractual (occupational) sick pay (OSP).

Line managers are required to record sickness absence for staff in their departments and will take appropriate action, in consultation with Human Resources, should there be cause for concern.

Doctor, dentist and hospital appointments should be arranged take place outside working hours, or either at the beginning or the end of the day, wherever possible. If an appointment means an absence of a half-day or more, it should be recorded as sickness absence in the normal way.

Sickness during annual leave, public holidays and School Closure

If a member of staff is sick during a period of booked annual leave, the appropriate number of annual leave days will be rescheduled, provided that the illness has been authenticated (generally by a medical certificate at the staff's own expense) in accordance with the School's sickness absence procedures. This means that the sickness absence should be reported, on the first day of sickness, to the relevant person in the division/department, in the normal manner. The period will be counted as sickness absence for sick pay and reporting purposes, once satisfactory authentication is received.

If a member of staff is sick during a public holiday or a School closure day, the holiday will not be able to be rescheduled for another time. Sickness during this time will be counted as sickness absence for sick pay and reporting purposes.

In the exceptional event that certified sickness absence has meant that an employee has been unable to take 28 days of holiday in a year (whether as leave, School closure or public holidays), then the School will permit the rearrangement of a further three days of leave, beyond the standard annual leave allocation of 25 days for the new leave year.

13 Maternity leave

Under current legislation, all pregnant employees have a statutory right to 26 weeks' ordinary maternity leave plus 26 weeks' additional maternity leave and to reasonable paid time off for antenatal appointments, regardless of their length of service. Eligible staff are entitled (subject to compliance with statutory conditions) to Statutory Maternity Pay (SMP) for 39 weeks; the first 6 weeks are paid at 90% of normal weekly earnings and the following 33 weeks are paid at a fixed weekly rate set annually by the government. Those staff who do not qualify for SMP, may be entitled to Maternity Allowance and should contact their local Job Centre Plus for further advice.

In addition to current statutory entitlements, the School offers eligible staff 18 weeks of full contractual (occupational) maternity pay (OMP) providing they have completed 26 weeks' continuous service at the beginning of the 15th week before the expected week of childbirth (EWC). OMP is inclusive of Statutory Maternity Pay (SMP) during the 18-week period, and is usually followed by 21 weeks' SMP and a further 13 weeks' unpaid leave, totalling 52 weeks contractual pay. OMP shall not extend beyond the end date of a contract.

An employee who gives birth through a surrogacy arrangement is eligible for paid maternity leave provided that they meet the eligibility criteria.

The Maternity Leave Policy and Procedure can be found on the HR website. For specific and confidential advice about maternity leave and/or other family related policies, please contact your HR Adviser.

14 Paternity leave

Under current legislation, fathers/partners who have completed 26 weeks' continuous service at the beginning of the 15th week before the expected week of childbirth (EWC) are eligible to apply for up to 10 days'

(pro-rated for part-time staff) statutory paid paternity leave and Statutory Paternity Pay (SPP), which is a fixed weekly rate set annually by the government. In addition to these statutory rights, the School offers those eligible employees up to 10 days' full contractual (occupational) paternity pay (OPP), pro-rated if part-time, which is inclusive of SPP.

Paternity leave should be taken on or around the birth of the child and usually within eight weeks of the child being born.

Eligible parents in a surrogacy arrangement who are entitled to and intend to apply for a Parental Order under the Human Embryology and Fertilisation Act 2008 will be able to take paternity leave and pay (birth and adoption), if they meet the normal qualifying conditions.

Fathers/partners have a statutory right to unpaid time off to attend up to two antenatal appointments. However, the School offers reasonable paid time off for up to two antenatal appointments.

In all cases of paternity leave, members of staff should notify their manager and HR Adviser as soon as possible, but at least 28 days before it is anticipated that the leave will start.

The Paternity Leave Policy and Procedure can be found on the Human Resources website. For specific and confidential advice about paternity leave and/or other family related policies, please contact your HR Adviser.

15 Adoption leave

Under current legislation, an employee who is newly adopting a baby or child and who is the main adopter has a statutory right to 26 weeks' Ordinary Adoption Leave (OAL) plus 26 weeks' Additional Adoption Leave (AAL) and reasonable paid time off for up to five pre-adopting leave meetings, regardless of their length of service. A member of staff in a surrogacy arrangement, who meets the relevant qualifying criteria and who applies for a parental order in relation to a child born under a surrogacy agreement, will also qualify for this adoption leave.

Eligible staff will (subject to compliance with statutory conditions) be entitled to Statutory Adoption Pay (SAP) for 39 weeks; the first 6 weeks are paid at 90% of normal weekly earnings and the following 33 weeks are paid at a fixed weekly rate set annually by the government. The qualification period for SAP is 26 weeks of continuous service with the School, ending with the week in which the adopter was notified of having been matched with a child by an adoption agency.

In addition to these statutory entitlements, the School offers eligible staff 18 weeks of full contractual (Occupational) Adoption Pay (OAP), providing they meet the above qualifying criteria. OAP is inclusive of Statutory Adoption Pay (SAP) during the 18-week period, and is usually followed by 21 weeks' SAP and a further 13 weeks' unpaid leave, totalling 52 weeks. OAP shall not extend beyond the end date of a contract.

A member of staff adopting a child, but who is not the main adopter, may be eligible for paternity leave and should check the School's Paternity Leave Policy and Procedure on the HR website.

The Adoption Leave Policy and Procedure can be found on the HR website. For specific advice and confidential about adoption leave and/or other family related policies, please contact your HR Adviser.

16 Shared Parental Leave (SPL)

SPL enables parents to share caring responsibilities during the child's first year following birth or placement. Unlike maternity/adoption leave, eligible employees can stop and start their SPL and return to work between periods of leave and can submit three notices to book periods of leave. SPL can be used alongside, or instead of, maternity or adoption leave.

The amount of SPL available is calculated using the mother's entitlement to maternity/adoption leave, which allows parents to share up to 50 weeks' leave.

Under current legislation, staff seeking to take Shared Parental Leave (SPL) must, for example, have worked for the same employer for a continuous period of at least 26 weeks at the end of the 15th week before the week in which the child is due (or at the end of the week in which an adopter was notified of having been matched with a child for adoption) and still be employed in the first week that SPL is to be taken. The other parent must have worked for 26 weeks in the 66 weeks leading up to the due date and have earned above the Maternity Allowance threshold in 13 of the 66 weeks. The School's Shared Parental Leave Policy and Procedure gives details of other eligibility and notice requirements under current legislation.

To qualify for Statutory Shared Parental Pay (ShPP) the employee must have the appropriate continuity of service (employment by the employer for at least 26 weeks at the 15th week before the child's due/matching date and still an employee in the first week of SPL), and must also have earned an average salary of the lower earnings limit or more for the eight weeks prior to the 15th week before the child's due date or placement.

Eligible staff will (subject to compliance with statutory conditions) be entitled to a maximum of 37 weeks' ShPP less the number of weeks of the statutory maternity / adoption pay received by the mother. ShPP is paid at a fixed weekly rate, which is set by the government annually.

In addition, eligible staff are entitled to Contractual Shared Parental Pay, subject to their qualifying for SPL and ShPP, of up to a maximum of 16 weeks' full pay. This is not in addition to payment of ShPP or Occupational Maternity Pay. A maximum of 16 weeks' contractual ShPP is only payable during the 37 weeks in which Statutory Shared Parental Pay is available. Contractual Shared Parental Pay shall not extend beyond the end date of a contract.

The Shared Parental Leave Policy and Procedure can be found on the HR website. For specific and confidential advice about SPL, ShPP and/or other family related policies, please contact your HR Adviser.

17 Parental leave

Eligible employees can take up to a maximum of 18 weeks' unpaid parental leave, per child, up until the child is 18 years of age. The maximum amount of parental leave that may be taken in any one year, in respect of a child, is usually four weeks. In addition, the School offers further flexibility by allowing the following patterns of parental leave:

- one complete block of four weeks ;
- several one-week periods;
- shorter working weeks.

If the dates requested for taking a block of leave would substantially prejudice the School's work, then the leave may be postponed but not indefinitely and not usually for more than six months. The School cannot postpone parental leave requested to immediately follow childbirth or adoption.

The Parental Leave Policy and Procedure can be found on the HR website. For specific and confidential advice about parental leave, please contact your HR Adviser.

18 Emergency leave

Members of staff can request emergency leave for crisis incidents (i.e., incidents that were unforeseen and could not be planned for) affecting a dependant (for example, their parent, spouse, civil partner, child, partner or someone who lives with them as a family member) in order to arrange care for that person. Up to two days' paid leave a year can be given for circumstances not covered by compassionate leave. Members of staff are expected to contact their line manager at the earliest opportunity in order to explain the situation. Requests for additional unpaid leave may be made. For further information, please refer to the Human Resources website.

Entitlement to emergency leave is calculated using a rolling 12-month period and no carry-forward is possible.

19 Compassionate leave

Members of staff are allowed paid leave of up to two days for the death and attendance at the funeral of immediate family members, other close relatives or other people with whom they had a close continuing relationship. If members of staff are responsible for making the funeral arrangements, up to a total of five working days' paid leave for planning and attendance may be given. Applications for all compassionate leave in these circumstances should be made to Heads of Department. Heads of Department may exercise discretion in approving compassionate leave above the normal allowance as each request needs to be judged on the circumstances of the case – such discretion should be exercised in consultation with their HR Partner.

Paid leave may also be given when a close relative is terminally ill or when, in the absence of other nursing arrangements, members of staff are responsible for care. The total amount of leave should normally be not more than 15 working days. If members of staff need to apply to their line manager for such leave, wherever possible they should do so in advance.

For advice, members of staff and Heads of Department should contact their HR Partner.

20 Equity, Diversity and Inclusion

As an employer, LSE strives to ensure that all its members of staff are able to develop to their full potential and are treated with dignity and respect. To that end, LSE seeks to ensure that people are free from discrimination on the grounds of age, disability, race, nationality, ethnic or national origin, gender, gender identity, religion or belief, sexual orientation, marriage and civil partnerships, pregnancy and maternity, personal circumstances, political affiliation or trade union membership.

21 The Ethics Code

All employees have a responsibility to act in accordance with the School's Ethics Code and to promote the principles and values that the Code enshrines. The Ethics Code clearly states that the whole LSE community, including all staff, students, and governors of LSE, are expected to act in accordance with the principles which are set out in it. As such you are required to read and familiarise yourself with the Ethics Code. The six core principles are summarised below and you can access the full code at lse.ac.uk/ethics.

- Responsibility and Accountability: In order to uphold our commitment to responsibility and accountability, we will embed the principle of individual responsibility at every level of the School's management and governance structures and raise concerns relating to ethical matters as they arise.

- Integrity: In order to uphold our commitment to integrity, we will be honest and truthful; act in accordance with all relevant legislation and statutory requirements; declare interests and manage appropriately possible conflicts; be transparent and consistent in our decision making; maintain our independence in engaging with outside parties and conduct fundraising activities in line with the principles set out in the Ethics Code.
- Intellectual Freedom: In order to uphold our commitment to intellectual freedom, we will: protect individuals' freedom of expression and uphold the freedom to research and convey research findings.
- Equality of Respect and Opportunity: In order to uphold our commitment to advancing equality of respect and opportunity, we will treat all people with (equal) dignity and respect and ensure that no person will be treated less favourably because of her/his role at the School, age, disability, gender (including gender identity), ethnicity and race, religion or belief, sexual orientation, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity and social and economic background.
- Collegiality: In order to uphold our commitment to collegiality, we will promote within the School an inclusive and participatory working and social environment in which we encourage, support and behave appropriately to one another.
- Sustainability: In order to uphold our commitment to sustainability, we will minimise any negative impact we may have on the natural and built environment by effectively managing our resources.

22 Health and safety

Members of staff have responsibilities in relation to health and safety and must comply with the LSE's Health and Safety Policy.

The full text of the Health and Safety Policy can be found on the School website.

23 Visual display units and eyesight tests

In accordance with statutory rights, assistance is available towards the cost of an eyesight test for those who work with visual display equipment as a significant part of their normal working hours. Additionally the School provides a further contribution towards the cost of corrective lenses/glasses needed for VDU work.

For further information please contact the Human Resources Division or refer to the Human Resources website.

24 Smoking policy

Smoking, including e-cigarettes, is prohibited inside all buildings on the Houghton Street campus, all LSE halls of residence, including residents' rooms, and any other building or facility managed by the School. The prohibition extends to building entrances, including doorways, steps and ramps and external fire escape stairways and escape routes.

25 The Regulations for Internal Financial Management

All members of staff have a general responsibility for the security of the School's property, for avoiding loss and for due economy in the use of resources. Compliance with financial regulations and procedures is compulsory for all staff connected with the School.

The Regulations for Internal Financial Management are updated annually and the current version can be found on the Finance Division website.

26 Data Protection Act 2018

The School recognises that in the course of its activities it collects stores and processes personal data about its staff, students, applicants, alumni and members of the general public. The School is committed to protecting the rights and freedoms of individuals with respect to the processing of their personal data, recognizes its obligations as a data controller within the meaning of the EU General Data Protection Regulation and the Data Protection Act 2018, and undertakes to ensure that the personal data of its employees, students, applicants, alumni and members of the general public are managed in accordance with all applicable data protection laws.

To that end, the School:

- i. maintains a Data Protection Policy, which is available from the School website; and
- ii. undertakes to collect and process information relating to employees only in accordance with that Policy and its associated policies, procedures and guidance, all of which are available from the School website;

All members of staff have a responsibility to manage the personal data of other staff, students, applicants, alumni and members of the general public in line with the Policy and its associated policies, procedures and guidance. Any breach of the Policy may lead to disciplinary action.

27 Freedom of Information Act 2000

Members of staff are responsible for managing their records so that they can respond to Freedom of Information requests within 20 working days. They also need to be aware of what is on the Publication Scheme, so that they can point requesters to it. The Publication Scheme should also be used proactively to publish as much information as possible.

For further information and advice please refer to the School's Freedom of Information website.

28 Conditions of Use of IT Facilities

Members of staff must comply with the Conditions of Use of IT Facilities. These conditions are updated periodically by Information Management and Technology and the current version can be found on the Data Technology Services website.

29 Emergency access to emails

Members of staff should be aware that their emails could be checked in the course of any legitimate search which is necessitated by the School's statutory responsibilities under data protection and freedom of information legislation, or for the purposes set out in clause 12 of the Conditions of Use of IT Facilities, for School-related messages which are relevant to that legitimate search. The School will endeavour to inform the staff member concerned before any search is conducted. However, in the event of the staff member's unavailability for consultation, or if they have left the service of the School, such searches can be conducted without prior consultation. Any such search shall only be carried out if authorised by the Director, a Pro Director, the School Secretary, or the Chief Operating Officer.

30 Use of telephone

The School has a telephone system that automatically logs details of all calls (ie, the recipients and duration) made and received. Members of staff should be aware that telephone usage records are sent to managers on a monthly basis.

Personal calls should, as far as practicable, be made outside working hours. Members of staff may however use the School phone system during working hours to make short occasional personal calls to local or national numbers.

Members of staff who need to make personal calls of a longer duration, or calls to international numbers, should do this in their own time. These calls may be made by using their personal account on the School's telephone system.

31 Use of furniture

The School has a right to expect any locked drawers or cupboards to be opened on request of a staff member's line manager, where there are reasonable business/operational grounds for such a request. A request for access must be authorised by one of the following: Director; Pro Director; School Secretary; Chief Operating Officer.

32 Paid external activities

Members of academic staff shall be required to obtain the permission of the School before undertaking:

- teaching during term, other than the delivery of a small number of special lectures, for anybody other than the School during the School's term
- any standing, regular or frequently recurring commitment to do paid work for anybody other than the School

- any other paid work which might impede the proper performance of their duties of teaching, research and participation in the life and administration of the School.

Full-time staff may not hold appointments concurrently with other institutions without the express permission of the Director of the School or the Director of Human Resources.

Part-time members of staff may not hold an appointment concurrently with another institution where the aggregated total contracted hours of employment at the School and the other institution exceeds a full-time position with the School. Part-time members staff employed at the School must inform the Director of Human Resources in writing of the details of any other part-time post held at another institution.

The School recognises that outside activities, such as lectures, broadcasts, and consultancy, are usually of benefit to the School and its staff. They enhance the image of the School, help create collaborative links, and provide direct feedback into teaching and research. Clearly, however, the School needs to ensure that outside activities do not compromise the normal activities of the School, and that the School does not become inadvertently responsible for the actions of an individual. This Code of Practice is intended to clarify, rather than replace formal terms and conditions of employment. There is no intention that it should impose restrictions on voluntary and unpaid work. With certain limited exceptions, in the case of full-time appointments, no outside work with other parties outside the School, or personal business activities may be undertaken without the prior permission of, as applicable, the Head of Department, the Pro-Director Faculty Development or the Director. Any additional paid work that is paid directly by the School is covered by the Additional Payments Policy and Procedure. Such work does not fall within the remit of “paid external activities”.

Policy Principles

The following activities will not require prior permission unless there is any reason to believe that they may interfere with the responsibilities which the members of staff concerned have by virtue of their School appointment:

- External examining
- Work arranged via an LSE subsidiary or unit of the School e.g Summer School, LSE Research and Innovation, LSE Consulting
- Occasional lectures and broadcasts
- Authorship of books and other learned publications
- Consultancy work, if such work amounts to less than 10 days of work per annum. If it amounts to more than that, the permission of the relevant authority will be required (please see policy principles set out below)

In all such cases it is however the responsibility of members of staff to consult with their Head of Department.

- Occasional teaching.

With the above limited exceptions, in the case of full-time appointments, no outside work with parties outside the School may be undertaken without the prior permission of the Head of Department (if in excess of 10 days but less than 25 days of work per annum), the Pro-Director Faculty Development (if in excess of 25 days but less than 50 days of work per annum) or the Director (if in excess of 50 days of work per annum). Note that outside work in excess 50 of days per annum would normally be considered as conflicting with a staff member's normal duties. When members of staff are granted such permission, the work undertaken is regarded with the exception of work arranged an LSE subsidiary or unit of the School e.g. Summer School, LSE Research and Innovation, LSE Consulting as being outside the course of their employment by the School. Unless any other arrangement is deemed appropriate by the School, as for example where the outside work affects the extent to which members of staff are able to fulfil the responsibilities arising by virtue of their School appointment, members of staff are entitled to the revenue which arises from the activity and the School will have no interest in any rights from the activity. Members of staff will not have the right to use School facilities including those of its departments or central services and will have to pay the full economic cost for such facilities as they may be permitted to use. Members of staff should not use the School's notepaper or any other medium whereby the name of the School might be introduced into such activities without authority.

Applications for permission, where applicable, to undertake paid external activities must be submitted to the, as applicable, Head of Department, Pro-Director Faculty Development or Director and include the following information:

- The name of the member(s) of staff concerned
- The title of the project and a brief description of the work involved
- The proposed starting date and duration of the work
- Full details of School facilities required (for the calculation of the full economic cost)

- An undertaking that the work will not interfere with the teaching and other normal School duties of the member(s) of staff concerned
- The written approval of the relevant Head of Department (where application needs to be addressed to the Pro-Director Faculty Development or the Director).

The application will be considered with advice as appropriate. Applications are considered against the following guidelines:

- That the work to be undertaken is normally not incompatible with the research, education and scholarly objectives of the School
- That the full economic costs arising out of the use of any School facilities are fully recoverable
- That the work does not conflict with the interests of the School through any other outside work currently being undertaken or planned as a School activity
- That the total commitment of the individual to such outside work is reasonable
- The extent of any other outside work currently being undertaken by the member of staff concerned and/or the results of any outside work previously undertaken. In granting approval the members of staff concerned will be reminded of their obligation under this section of the Academic Staff terms and conditions.

Legal liability on paid external activities

For any paid external activity, it is the responsibility of the staff member to inform the outside body that they are acting as an individual and not on behalf of the School and that the School accepts no responsibility for opinions or advice given. Likewise the School accepts no liability.

The School's Professional Indemnity Insurance does not cover a member of staff undertaking paid external activities.

The School will not in any circumstances be liable for any negligence arising from a member of staff's performance of paid external activities. It is for the member of staff concerned to decide whether to insure personally against any liabilities incurred in the course of or as a result of this work.

However, the School's academic members of staff are covered by the School's insurance policy when they act as external examiners for other institutions.

33 Political activities

Guiding Principles of the School: Members of staff must act in accordance with the Guiding Principles of the School set out in Section 14 of the Articles of Association that were approved on 22 January 2019, or any subsequent guiding principles set out in an amended or updated version of the same document.

34 Trade union membership

The School recognises the following trade unions: the University and College Union (UCU), UNISON and Unite. Members of staff usually choose to join the union which represents their staff group (see Section 1). For further information, contact details for the recognised unions may be found on the School's website.

35 Resignation, end of fixed-term contracts and notice periods

Members of academic staff may resign their appointment by notice given in writing of a minimum period of one academic term (to expire at the end of the term) or ten weeks, whichever is longer.

Members of academic staff should resign in writing to their Head of Department. A copy of the letter or email should also be sent to the Director of Human Resources.

Where appointments are for a fixed term, consultation will normally take place if the contract is to terminate upon its expiry; no period of notice other than that implicit in the letter of appointment is required to bring the contract to an end on the expiry date.

The School will give notice of one academic term (to expire at the end of the term) or ten weeks (whichever is longer) of any changes to a staff member's contract of employment, or of its termination of a staff member's contract of employment.

Any such change or termination would, however, only take place once the appropriate process had been followed by the School in accordance with the provisions of the employment contract.

The School may choose to give pay in lieu of notice.

The current holiday leave entitlement of members of staff who leave the School will be re-calculated on a pro rata basis to reflect their leaving date. Where members of staff have not already taken their entitlement, a corresponding lump sum will be paid with their final salary. Where members of staff have already taken more holiday leave than their entitlement, an adjustment will be made in their final salary.

Any outstanding loans or advances shall be deducted from the final salary. If the outstanding amount exceeds any final salary, direct payment should be made payable to the School. For further information please consult with Finance Division.

36 Retirement

The School has no contractual or default retirement age, and therefore cannot assume that staff will retire at a set age. However, members of staff are encouraged to have open discussions with their Head of Department/Head of Service as early as possible in their planning for retirement, and will be invited by their Head of Department/Head of Service to attend a formal meeting to discuss their plans during the year they reach the age of 62.

Staff who wish to retire from the School are required to resign in writing from their post, to their Head of Department/Head of Service (copy to HR) providing at least their contractual notice. Human Resources will acknowledge receipt and confirm acceptance of the request to retire by reason of resignation.

Staff wishing to transition to their retirement date can submit a request to work flexibly. Staff wishing to request to work flexibly should submit any such request to their Head of Department no later than 12 months prior to any proposed commencement of any such flexible option.

The School's pension schemes (USS and SAUL) still retain a Normal Pension Age (NPA), as will the State Pension.

Staff are advised to read the School's Retirement Guidelines for further information. This document can be found on the Human Resources website.

The current holiday leave entitlement of members of staff who leave the School will be re-calculated on a pro rata basis to reflect their leaving date. Where members of staff have not already taken their entitlement, a corresponding lump sum will be paid with their final salary. Where members of staff have already taken more holiday leave than their entitlement, an adjustment will be made in their final salary.

Any outstanding loans or advances shall be deducted from the final salary. If the outstanding amount exceeds any final salary, direct payment should be made payable to the School.

37 Conferment of the titles of Emeritus Reader or Emeritus Professor

The title of Emeritus Professor/Reader will be conferred on those Professors/Readers retiring from the School, in recognition and appreciation of services to the School, the University and the subject.

38 Procedures

The following procedures form part of the contract of employment:

- Procedure for complaints of sexual harassment by students
- Policy on alcohol and drugs misuse at work.

These procedures are available on the Human Resources website.

39 "The Academic Annex"

The "Academic Annex" forms part of the academic staff contract of employment. It includes:

- the procedure for the dismissal of academic staff for reasons of redundancy, as provided for under Section 204 (2)-(6) of the Education Reform Act.
- disciplinary procedures and procedures for dismissals and removal from office
- the procedure for removal for incapacity on medical grounds
- appeals procedure relating to the above

- the grievance procedure for academic staff.

The "Academic Annex" and the procedures contained within it can be found on the Human Resources website.

References to the "Association of University Teachers (AUT)" in the "Academic Annex" should be read as the "University and College Union (UCU)".

Other benefits

Sections 40-52 refer to other benefits offered by the School, organisations associated with the School or other third parties. The information contained within these sections is provided for information only, is subject to change and is not in any way to be considered contractual.

40 Relocation – Assistance to New Staff

New members of staff joining the School at Assistant, Associate and full Professor level may benefit from the School's Relocation Policy. Full details of the Scheme may be found on the Human Resources website.

41 Nursery

The School has a nursery that provides day care for up to 63 children (aged six months to five years). For further information please contact the Nursery or refer to the Nursery's website.

Employees of the School who require back-up emergency childcare can request care at the LSE Nursery.

There is a salary sacrifice scheme to assist members of staff who use the Nursery. For further information on the salary sacrifice scheme please check the Finance Division website.

42 Childcare voucher scheme

For members of staff who arrange childcare outside of the School Nursery, the School offers a scheme to purchase childcare vouchers from an external supplier.

This scheme operates as a salary sacrifice scheme to assist members of staff with the cost of childcare.

For further information on the salary sacrifice scheme please check the Finance Division website.

43 Library

As a member of academic staff you will have automatic membership of the LSE Library - Internationally recognised as a major social science library.

44 Events

LSE provides a regular programme of lectures and seminars on a wide range of subjects, including politics, society, culture, architecture and art. Other events include evening and lunchtime concerts. These events are normally free to members of staff. Details of events can be found on the Conferences and Events website

45 Senior Common Room

Membership of the Senior Common Room is open to all members of staff. Membership gives access to the Staff Dining Room and to the Senior Common Room, where a large number of newspapers and periodicals are available. For further information on other events, subscription rates and applications, please contact the SCR at SCRcommittee@lse.ac.uk.

46 Season ticket loans

Applications may be made by members of staff for a loan to cover the cost of an annual second class season ticket for travel between home and the School, provided that the member of staff's contract of employment is not due to expire before the expiry date of the season ticket and that the member of staff has completed at least three months' continuous service. Should the contract end prior to the expiry of the season ticket, they will be expected to repay the loan in full prior to the end of their contract. Where a season ticket loan has been granted, staff will be expected to use their season ticket when travelling on School business whenever possible. For further information please contact Finance Division.

47 Cycle to Work Scheme

Eligible staff have the opportunity to lease bicycles and cycle safety equipment (for commuting purposes) free of income tax, National Insurance and partially free of VAT. The School is in partnership with Cyclescheme which offers staff the choice of a large network of partner bike retailers. For more information and details on eligibility, please see the Finance Division website.

48 Remission of fees

Applications may be made by members of staff for remission of fees in respect of degree and diploma programmes taken at the School. The remission of fees policy is available on the Finance Division website.

49 LSE Student Union Gym

Members of staff are eligible to apply for membership of the LSE Student Union Gym. Most staff will also be eligible for a loan through payroll to cover annual membership to the gym. For further details, see the Human Resources and/or LSESU Gym website.

50 Staff Counselling Service

The School offers a counselling service available to help with any work-related and/or personal problems. For further details see the Staff Counselling Service website.

51 Private health care

Health insurance via Eduhealth, who offer university staff discount on Eduhealth plans. Staff interested in this option should visit the Eduhealth website eduhealth.co.uk, which provides details on how to make an application.

52 Faith Centre

All religious faiths are widely represented in London, and major world religions are well represented in the School's cosmopolitan atmosphere. The Faith Centre offers a welcome and hospitality to all, as well as the opportunity to talk to a chaplain at any time. For further details see the Faith Centre website.
