

NEWS IN PICTURES

Poland's Filharmonia Szczecińska by Barcelona-based Barozzi Veiga has won the 2015 Mies van der Rohe Prize. The only UK scheme in the running for the £48,000 top prize was O'Donnell + Tuomey's Stirling Prize-shortlisted Saw Swee Hock Building at the LSE.

Filmmaker Paramount has revealed its latest plans for a proposed £2 billion resort in north Kent masterplanned by Terry Farrell. The huge project on the Swanscombe Peninsula is expected to become the first 'commercial' scheme to pass through the Nationally Significant Infrastructure Projects planning regime when submitted this summer.

SUSAN SMART / ROCA

Last week the winners of the AJ's Women in Architecture Awards, vPPR founders Tatiana von Preussen, Catherine Pease and Jessica Reynolds, and Teresa Borsuk (pictured) from Pollard Thomas Edwards gave their advice to aspiring architects at the annual WIA winners talk. They were joined on stage by Amanda Levete, who paid tribute to the late Women in Architecture judge and campaign supporter Moira Gemmill.