

Donor Charter

The London School of Economics and Political Science is extremely grateful to those who choose to support its work and to ensure that donors receive the highest level of care and respect for their generosity, LSE Philanthropy and Global Engagement assures that:

1. Donations are accepted in accordance with the principles and standards set out in the School's Donations Acceptance Policy.
2. All donations, when undesignated, will be used for such purposes as the School judges will best advance its priorities. Where the donor expresses a preference for the application of their donation, the School will take the greatest care to ensure that such wishes are carried out.
3. A gift restricted for a specific purpose will be used for that purpose. If there is a change in the priorities or needs of the School, or in the case of funding an academic position, a change in personnel, then the use of donation will be discussed with the donor or their representative.
4. All donors will be thanked and acknowledged in a timely manner.
5. All donors will be publicly recognised, unless the donor informs us that they wish to remain anonymous.
6. The personal information of all donors will be kept secure in accordance with Data Protection Act 1998 and the School's Data Protection policy.
7. All donors will be informed of the impact of their donation, including recruitment for a post they have funded, outputs of research they have supported, the award of a scholarship or bursary that they have funded. Donors will also be informed about the School's evolving needs, priorities and initiatives.
8. The School's most recent published financial accounts are accessible to donors.
9. We will be available to answer questions or discuss your gift honestly, and in a timely manner.

LSE Advancement is dedicated to looking after our supporters. If you have any questions, would like to opt out of particular communications or want to share feedback please get in touch using the details below.