Jasna Begić

I am Department of Mathematics' Teaching Support Officer and have been at LSE since September 2021. Before joining LSE, I was working at London Business School in the Finance Subject Area. When I'm not working, I enjoy singing in a choir, working on my newly acquired allotment, and planning my next holiday (scuba diving ideas anyone?).

Megan Bennett

I am currently the Service Delivery Manager for the LLM (the Postgraduate taught programme) in the LSE Law School, having joined LSE in December 2022. I've worked in higher education for nearly 10 years in programme administration roles, working at King's and Birkbeck universities before joining LSE. Outside of work, I love exploring museums, art galleries, and National Trust sites, reading fiction, listening to podcasts and playing boardgames badly.

Charlotte McKay

I am a Course Administrator for the one-year MSc students in Department of International Development and have been at LSE since 2019. Before joining LSE, I worked also as an administrator looking after Graphic Design courses at the same institution that I graduated from in 2012. Outside of work I am either looking after my daughter and dog, playing tennis, gaming, or brushing up on my design. All while eating lots of crisps!

Langyi Ye

I'm currently the Programmes Coordinator in the Department of Management and have been at LSE since September 2022. Before joining LSE, I had some higher education working experience at Denison University while studying there. Outside of work, I like bouldering and spending time with my two lovely cats.

Alessia Zaja

I am currently the MSc Management Programme Administrator and have worked at LSE since January 2022. Before joining LSE, I worked in a similar role at a law school, and prior to that I was in arts administration. Outside work, you will find me at the theatre, gigs, art galleries, markets or just sightseeing in general, though I also love chilling at home with my cat.
