Sophia Freckmann

I am currently the Student Experience and Programme Delivery Officer for the LLB (the undergraduate programme) in the LSE Law School. Since joining LSE in 2021 originally as a student in PBS, I have worked in the Extended Education Division and the Law School. In my free time, you'll find me either in the local library, the BFI, or walking/cycling along the Thames!

Francesca Gil

I'm the Programme Manager for the MSc Finance (Part-time) programme in the Department of Finance at LSE. Before joining LSE, I worked at King's College London and previously held roles in both teaching and consulting. Outside of work, you'll most likely find me at the gym, out in nature on long walks, or spending quality time with my two gorgeous cats.

Kevin Kittoe

I am the Teaching and Assessment Administrator in the Data Science Institute (DSI). Prior to joining the DSI, I also worked at UCL's Political Science Department as a Teaching & Learning Admin. I am passionate about politics and travelling and obsessive about cycling.

Sarah McManus

I currently work as MSc Programmes Manager in the Department of Statistics. I've been at LSE since 2008, including the first six years in HR. Prior to joining LSE, I pursued a career in HR for some years, working in several different organisations before settling on Higher Education. Outside of work, I am a big cinema and theatre fan, and also enjoy yoga, reading, and chilling out with my favourite podcasts. Preferably over a latte!

Andrew Park

I have been a Programme Administrator in the School of Public Policy (SPP) since joining LSE in the spring of 2023. Before this, I worked in a similar role at Birkbeck. When not at work, I spend most of my time reading, running, watching football, making trips to cinemas and theatres, and trying out as many of London's cafés and bakeries as I can manage!

Adeel Parvez

I am currently one of the MSc Programme managers in the Department of Sociology. I have been at LSE for almost three years and previously worked at King's. Outside of work, I like playing/watching football, going to the cinema, and trying new restaurants.
