Zoë Adams Z.C.Adams@lse.ac.uk

I am the Department of International Relations Student Experience Manager. I've been in this role since January 2019, and prior to that I spent a year with LSE's Student Recruitment Team. I'm active and outdoorsy: I love walking, running (slowly), gardening, and generally escaping my desk and getting muddy.

Becci Ayling R.Ayling@lse.ac.uk

I'm currently the Undergraduate Programme Manager in the Department of Management and have worked at LSE since April 2019. My previous role was in the Results Team in the Student Services Centre (SSC), working with marks, classifications, and awards. I'm a Netflix and Disney+ addict and since the pandemic I have taken to getting outside as much as possible, weather permitting, whether that's walking, running (also slowly) or playing netball.

Michelle Batten M.E.Batten@lse.ac.uk

I am Programme Manager for the two-year Master of Public Administration programme in the School of Public Policy and have been at LSE since 2008. Before joining LSE, I was an exams and assessments administrator for undergraduate medical and dental students at King's College London. Outside work, I can usually be found doing yoga, walking or being distracted by wildlife.

Alice O'Donkor - a.odonkor@lse.ac.uk

I am Student Engagement and Communications Officer for the Department of Economics and I joined LSE in 2018. Before joining the School, I worked as a reporter for a legal magazine and later as a communications assistant in the UK charity sector. I enjoy reading, live music, hunting for new music acts to love and long walks around the park.

Fiona Thomas F.S.Thomas@lse.ac.uk

I am Service Delivery Manager for Undergraduate Programmes in the Law Department. I have been at LSE for five year and prior to that, I was the Exams Officer in a secondary school in North West London. Outside work I really enjoy a good book and a bit of gardening.

Claire Tomlinson C.C.Tomlinson@lse.ac.uk

I am the Undergraduate Programme Manager in the Department of Sociology, and I have been at LSE for almost six years. I quite like a lunch time run as long as it involves a chat, so always open to a PMA running club starting up! I recently moved out of London and am spending a lot of my time stuck in DIY, and am really looking forward to the summer ahead to enjoy the garden.
